Six Navy Pilots Killed In Fleet Maneuvers At Sea

LOSE LIVES SEEKING TO SAVE MATES

Disaster Most Serious of Series Marking Elaborate Fleet Problem

BOARD U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, WITH THE PACIFIC FLEET, May 23.—(UP)—Six navy airplane crew members were killed Tuesday night while directing rescues to a stricken sister plane, it was revealed today.

The men died when their plane plunged into the Pacific after circling high above a second craft which had descended in distress 40 miles south of Midway island.

The disaster was the most serious of a series which have marked the elaborate fleet problem 16 in which virtually the entire sea forces of the United States are concentrated in the Pacific.

The lost plane members were part of the defending forces of the fleet. The craft to whose rescue they had gone was one of the attacking force.

The dead:

Lieut. Harry Brandenburger, 37, Belleville, Ill.

Junior Lieut. Charles J. Skelly, 30, San Francisco.

Chief Machinists Mate P. C. Litts, Oceanview, Va., (wife's address given as Honolulu).

Radioman Frank Robert Derry, no address.

First Machinists Mate P. J. Proteau, Wretham, Mass.

Third Machinists Mate O. A. Sharpe, Hesperia, Okla.

The accident occurred during the third phase of the fleet problem. The Brandenburger plane, based at Midway island, was one of 43 aircraft which had been dispatched there from Hawaii to repel a threatened mimic attack.

Early Tuesday evening it was scouting the open sea about 40 miles south of Midway island, searching for "enemy" aircraft.

Suddenly it spotted a plane in trouble on the water. The plane was one of the attacking force which had been forced down when one engine went dead.

The Brandenburger plane radioed immediately for destroyers to go to the rescue of the stricken craft.

It circled about the spot, maintaining radio communication and directing the rescuing craft. An hour later, a few minutes before the light cruiser Raleigh arrived, the Brandenburger plane itself plunged into the sea.

CLAIMS DEPRESSION IS BEING STOPPED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 23.—(UP)—Irving Fisher, economist and Yale university professor, said the economic depression "is being stopped now," as he made an appeal today for currency stabilization in an address today before the convention of Kiwanis International.

"One would be witless now going the route," he said, "is that Hoover could not prevent the depression and Roosevelt could not prevent the recovery"—a saying unjust to both of our worthy presidents.

"According to my own diagnosis, this depression could have been almost wholly prevented. After it was in process, it could have been stopped very quickly at any time. It is being stopped now."

JUDGE MORRISON WILL CARRY GOLD CARD CASE TO GOVERNOR

Radio Press Brings Suit For Million

Three Major Press Associations and ANPA Said Restraining Trade

NEW YORK, May 23.—(UP)—Transradio Press Service, Inc., and Radio News Association, Inc., have filed a $1,700,000 suit against the three major press associations, the two leading broadcasting chains and the American Newspaper Publishers Association, alleging conspiracy in restraint of trade.

The suit charges the defendants with violation of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust laws and the federal communications act. It accuses them of unfair competition and alleges that the radio chains agreed not to broadcast news except under the domination of the A. N. P. A. and the press associations.

Defendants are the A. N. P. A., the United Press, the Associated Press, the International News Service, the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system. Eleven individuals are named as co-defendants.

The suit is directly against all members of the Associated Press and all members of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, Inc., and of the said American Newspaper Publishers Association, Inc., other than those members thereof specifically named as defendants hereinafter, constitute a group so numerous that it would be impracticable to bring them all before the court by name; therefore, the aforesaid defendants who are members of the said Associated Press, Inc., and of the said American Newspaper Publishers Association, Inc., are sued as representing all members of their respective organizations as well as in their individual capacity."

COMMITTEE TAKES UP CRAIG CHARGES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 23.—(UP)—Consideration of a resolution asking removal from the bench of Appellate Justice Gavin W. Craig, Los Angeles, was undertaken by a special assembly judiciary sub-committee today.

The resolution, pointing out that the judge had been convicted recently of a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice and had refused to resign, was referred to the assembly judiciary committee, which in turn voted to refer it to a sub-committee.

The special group was composed of Assemblymen Jones, Wallace, O'Donnell, Williamson and Cunningham. A report may be submitted Friday.

G.A.R. VETERANS COMPLETE PLANS FOR OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY AT CEMETERY

SEDGWICK POST No. 17, Grand Army of the Republic, completed plans for annual observance of Memorial day at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

Out of the meeting came a request from Commander J. H. Brown of the Civil War Veterans post that all allied orders that expect to attend the Memorial Services at the First Christian church Sunday to assemble at the K. of P. hall by 10:30 a. m. to march in a body to the church.

The parade will be led by the Spanish American drum corps. Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will form in line at the church, as has been the custom in past years.

On Memorial Day members of Sedgwick post will gather at the monument in the old Santa Ana

BUSINESS MEN OF CITY TO URGE GOVERNOR VETO STATE DOG RACING BILL

PLANS were being discussed by merchants and business men of Santa Ana today to urge Gov. Frank F. Merriam to veto the California dog racing bill, which was sent to the Governor yesterday after the assembly had concurred on senate amendments.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce already has taken a determined stand against racing of any kind in the knowledge that betting and gambling makes for permanent injury to business.

Opposition by the chamber of commerce was strengthened today by the support of Phil M. Brown, secretary-manager of the Business Men's Association of Santa Ana, who said that business men here are opposed to racing.

Commenting on the proposed dog racing, Brown said that aside from the injury to business which follows racing, the demoralizing ef-

ENGLAND WILL ENLIST PILOTS FOR AIR FLEET

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
LONDON, May 23.—(UP)—Great Britain embarked on a formidable air defense program today and coincidentally moved to seek agreement with Germany on naval strength.

Less than 24 hours after the government promised the country full air equality with Germany, the air ministry made provision for enlisting 2,500 pilots and 20,000 enlisted men for a gigantic air force.

The Marquess of Londonderry, air

MURDERER TO HANG AT FOLSOM PRISON

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., May 23.—(UP)—Unsuccessful in his appeal for clemency, Tullie McQuate, 33, must hang at 10 a. m. tomorrow for the murder of Ella Straw, elderly San Diego woman with whom he lived for more than a year.

The state supreme court refused to recommend a commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment and Governor Frank F. Merriam was powerless to do anything except grant another stay of execution. There was no indication this executive would issue a second reprieve, however.

YOUNG AVIATORS TO SEEK NEW RECORD

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—(UP)—Two youthful aviators were enroute to Boston today in an effort to establish a new coast-to-coast junior flight record.

Peter Dana, 13, of Holderness, N. H., his co-pilot is Jack Fisher, 21, of Hartford, Conn.

They took off from Lambert-St. Louis field at 4:21 a. m.

On arrival here at 9:25 p. m., yesterday they said they were two hours and 15 minutes behind schedule. Elapsed air time from San Diego, Cal., when they arrived was 15 hours and 15 minutes.

Dana, an unlicensed transport pilot, expects to land his low-winged Ryan monoplane at Boston about 2:45 p. m. today. The young sportsman is a relative of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and Richard Henry Dana, the author.

Explanation By Cato Not Sufficient

Highway Patrol Chief Says Cards Given Out Only for Identification

THE GOLD courtesy card taken from a Los Angeles motorist Monday by Justice Kenneth E. Morrison here, today threatened to draw the official attention of the state, as Chief E. Raymond Cato, of the California Highway Patrol, who issued the card, gave a statement of explanation, Judge Morrison delivered a rebuff, and Gov. Frank F. Merriam was being sought for a statement on the incident, which was broadcast by the press throughout the state.

Judge Morrison, who seized the card from James Arnold, collector for Baron Long, Los Angeles and Agua Caliente sportsman, and sentenced Arnold to five days in the county jail, proceeded with his preparations to lay the case before the governor, Sen. N. T. Edwards of Orange county, and the county's two assemblymen, Speaker Ted Craig and James B. Utt.

Chief Cato, interviewed in Los Angeles today by a Register representative, explained that the gold courtesy cards were "intended solely as means of identification," and "do not offer any protection or immunity to the holders."

Pertinent Question

"Then why," retorted Judge Morrison, "does the state issue operator's cards for identification. And if these expensive, gold-plated cards are necessary for identification."

FORMER CLERK IS RELEASED ON BAIL

NEW YORK, May 23.—(UP)—George P. Sanborn, former county clerk of Sonoma county, Cal., was free in $500 bail today as a fugitive from justice in Santa Rosa, Cal., where he is charged with embezzlement of county funds.

Sanborn was picked up by police on a communication from the sheriff of Sonoma county. It did not give complete details of the charge.

Arraigned in Washington Heights court he was released pending a hearing May 29 on security offered by the National Surety company.

No attorney of record appeared for him, according to the court clerk. Attaches of the hotel which Sanborn gave as his residence said they believed he "will not be back for several days." They said they did not know where he had gone.

Williams was acquitted on a charge of receiving another sum of $2900.

He was found guilty, however, of giving false testimony before a house military affairs sub-committee which investigated army contracts. Williams had denied to the committee that he received the loan.

LATE FLASHES

UHRICHVILLE, O., May 23.—(UP)—Deputy Sheriff Martin Myers suffered two broken ribs today when he and Deputy Wynne Post were attacked by strikers and sympathizers at the Belden brick plant near here, which attempted to operate again in an area where 1400 men have been on strike since April 1.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(UP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill amending the Taylor grazing act to permit the federal government to control grazing privileges over virtually all of the federal public lands.

Business To Be Suspended Memorial Day

In accordance with custom business houses of Santa Ana will be closed on Memorial day, it was announced today by Phil M. Brown, secretary-manager of the Business Men's Association of Santa Ana.

All stores in the city Brown said, will be closed all day on Memorial day, which comes next Thursday, May 30. This custom of closing on Memorial day has been followed here for many years, Brown pointed out.

TAX PROBLEMS CONSIDERATION AGAIN DELAYED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 23.—(UP)—Consideration of tax and budget problems encountered further delay in the legislature today as both houses occupied their time with measures having no connection with important state questions.

The only flurry in the morning sessions occurred in the senate when, after a long debate, a bill proposing a tax on chain stores was withdrawn from committee where it had threatened to die for lack of support.

Although the assembly faced such outstanding bills as exemption of food from the sales tax and exclusion of indigents from California, members appeared more in a mood for levity, and progress through the file was so slow that these subjects were not reached.

Instead of evidencing a new desire to conclude their work—legislative pay having stopped last night—members continued their habit of devoting long periods to arguing comparatively unimportant measures.

FIND ARMY OFFICER GUILTY AT TRIAL

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(UP)—Col. Alexander E. Williams of the army quarter master corps was found guilty on two counts by a court martial today and sentenced to be dismissed from the service.

The officer was found to have solicited and obtained a loan of $2500 from the representative of an automobile tube concern which was seeking war department contracts in November, 1933.

Williams at that time was a brigadier general in charge of the transportation division of the quartermaster general's office, and the tire tube representative was trying to interest him in the product.

Williams was acquitted on a charge of receiving another sum of $2900.

He was found guilty, however, of giving false testimony before a house military affairs sub-committee which investigated army contracts. Williams had denied to the committee that he received the loan.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF INTENT TO RECALL SAN CLEMENTE'S MAYOR IS FILED WITH CLERK

THE RECALL battle being waged in San Clemente between backers of Mayor A. T. Smith and City Councilman Earl Von Bonhorst, ousted fire and police commissioner, burst into open warfare again this morning when official notice of intent to circulate recall petitions against the mayor was filed in the office of City Clerk William Holmes.

The petitions charged the mayor, against Von Bonhorst, have been with inefficiency, neglect of duty, in existence for some time, but malfeasance, nonfeasance, extravagance, abuse of power, incompetence, endeavoring to subsidize private interests from tax funds, "continually attempting to usurp the duties of other councilmen," compelling the city clerk and chief of police to do things they were not to do, and ordering the payment of questionable warrants, over insufficient signatures.

Mayor Smith, reached this morning, stated that intent to circulate recall petitions against Von Bonhorst would be filed tomorrow morning or Saturday. The petitions

PATMAN BILL IS KILLED WHEN 40 SENATORS VOTE TO RIDE WITH PRESIDENT

Fifty-Four Favor Measure But Lack Required Two-Thirds Majority Needed To Pass Over Veto

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The senate today sustained President Roosevelt's veto and killed the Patman bonus bill. The vote was 54 in favor of the measure and 40 against. The bonus forces were nine votes short of the two-thirds majority they needed to enact the bill over the veto.

When the senate originally passed the bill, the vote was 55 to 33.

Champions of the $2,200,000,000 measure battled to the last during a dramatic session. But they could not win the two-thirds majority necessary to have the senate join the house in overriding the veto.

BONUS MARCH ON WASHINGTON IS THREATENED

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—(UP)—A call to marshal World War veterans into a new march on Washington was issued today by R. W. Robertson, a leader of the 1932 bonus march, immediately after word was received that the senate sustained President Roosevelt's veto of the Patman bill.

Robertson estimated that nearly 7,000 men would join the march from California's four principal cities.

He said telegrams had been delivered him, via "brake-beam express" pledging 2000 marchers from San Francisco, 800 from Sacramento and 800 from San Diego. In addition, he estimated 3000 veterans would support the movement in Los Angeles.

Will Rogers Says:

PASO ROBLES, May 23.—(To the Editor of The Register.) Mrs. Rogers and I poking down the road, and we were listening to the President's speech. I don't care if you are for or against the bonus, you have to admit he made what the lawyers call a mighty good brief, and he made Mr. Long swallow his boast, that the President "was nothing but a politician and wouldn't care to veto the bill."

The best line he had was, "We have enough for everybody, but we haven't got all they want."

And say, you got to give that Hitler credit, he come through with some facts that these other nations are going to have to do some studying to think up answers to. His best line was, "A tank is a tank, a bomb is a bomb, no matter what nation has it."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

RELIEF DRIVE TO AID SMALL PROJECTS, SAID

year-old civil works administration drive—repairing schools and public buildings, drainage developments, bridge rehabilitation.

By putting men to work on that type of development, officials hoped to cut the $1,100-a-job cost for thousands of workers to offset the more expensive re-employment expenditures specified by congress.

The senate and house of representatives, for example, earmarked $600,000,000 for the civilian conservation corps with a yearly cost of $1,200 a year for each of the 600,000 enrollees.

A total of $500,000,000 was set aside for highway construction and grade-crossing elimination. Every man put to work building roads will cost the program $1,500.

EXPLANATION BY CATO HELD TO BE EXCUSE

fiction, why are they not issued to every driver?

Judge Morrison showed skepticism regarding the claim that the gold cards do not mean immunity from arrest. "It is fairly common knowledge that they do mean immunity," he declared.

"If a holder of one of my court-ney cards breaks the law," Cato's statement said, "he is just as liable as any other person, and I certainly shall make no move in the Arnold case."

"Unless we do accept the absurd theory that these gold cards are for identification only, they can have but one possible purpose, and that is immunity from arrest," declared the aroused judge.

Once intervened, Cato may not make a move in the Arnold case, but he has been known to make a move in at least one other local case where a prominent person was sentenced to jail for speeding. Judge Morrison made known.

Cato called Judge Morrison by telephone to "see what could be done for" Mrs. Edna Feathers, of Downey, wife of a vice president of the Standard Oil company, when she was sentenced several years ago, the judge said. Incidentally the woman did not serve her sentence, he added. An appeal was taken and has been pending in superior court here four years, without anything being done about it, he said.

Arnold was sentenced Tuesday on a charge of speeding 60 miles per hour near San Juan Capistrano, where he had already paid a fine of $25 for a speeding offense a few days before the second arrest. Because he had been once in the San Juan Capistrano court he asked transfer of the second case to Judge Morrison.

Arnold had been without his courtesy card on both occasions when officers arrested him, it was said. But he had it in court Monday, and it was confiscated.

that Smith was continually calling him out of order and attempting "to run things around here," and shortly after that his supporters began the circulation of petitions for Smith's recall.

Von Bonhorst figured prominently in the sensational recall election of two years ago, when he, Thomas Murphree sr., and O. R. Robertson were named in proceedings. Von Bonhorst was recalled as councilman at that time by the margin of one vote. Thirty days later he was re-elected to the council, again by the margin of one vote. He has been a city councilman at San Clemente since the organization of the Spanish village.

City Clerk Holmes has 15 days in which to check the petitions and ascertain if signatures appended are legal and sufficient.

BUSINESS MEN OF CITY WILL URGE GOVERNOR TO VETO DOG RACING BILL, NOW BEFORE HIM

is detrimental to business. The chamber of commerce backed up this theory with a personal investigation of the business conditions found around the Arcadia race track. Business, they found, was hurt, and probably permanently. They found that merchants had learned that their employees, and residents of the community, could not spend their money on the races and still have money enough left to pay their bills and spend for merchandise.

The dog racing bill, as finally drafted, provides for the appointment by the governor, subject to confirmation by the senate, of three commissioners to control dog racing in the state. They will supervise issuance of track licenses to operate racing under the pari-mutuel system of betting.

What is considered the most vicious part of the law as it is now framed, is that instead of counties voting to permit the dog racing and gambling, the tracks could be operated until the county in which the track is located votes against dog racing. In other words, a county could close a track only by a majority vote.

Prominent Los Angeles business men and organizations have taken the same stand as taken by Santa Ana business leaders. In Los Angeles the big stores and associations have figures to show that racing has been a terrible drain on business.

SENATE SUSTAINS PRESIDENT AND KILLS PATMAN BILL AS 54 VOTE TO OVERRIDE VETO

attach a bonus rider to the pending naval appropriation bill.

As the senate voted Sen. Marcus Coolidge, D., Mass., was revealed as the first switch. He voted to uphold the president's veto whereas on May 7 he voted for passage of the Patman bill.

Sen. Key Pittman, D., Nev., and Sen. James Pope, D., Ida., were the next to desert the bonites.

The result accounted for every available vote in the senate. Of the total membership of 66, one seat is vacant, that of Rush Holt, D., W. Va. Sen. Peter Norbeck, S. D., has long been ill and unable to attend the sessions.

It was announced that had he been present he would have voted "aye."

At one time there was so much confusion that Garner threatened to summon the sergeant-at-arms to maintain order "on the floor as well as in the galleries."

The bonus roll call in senate today follows:

To sustain the president—(40), Democrats—(28)—Ashurst, Bailey, Barkley, Brown, Buckley, Burke, Byrd, Chavez, Connally, Coolidge, Dieterich, Fletcher, Gerry, Glass, Gore, Guffey, Harrison, Hayden, King, Lomenzo, O'Connell, Pittman, Pope, Radcliffe, Robinson, Tydings, Wagner and Walsh.

Republicans—(12)—Austin, Barbour, Crenshaw, Hale, Hastings, Johnson, Keyes, McNary, Metcalf, Townsend, Vandenberg and White.

To override the president—(54), Democrats—(43)—Adams, Bachman, Bankhead, Bilbo, Blank, Bone, Bulow, Byrns, Caraway, Clark, Copeland, Costigan, Donahay, Dufffy, George, Hatch, Lewis, Logan, Long, Maloney, McAdoo, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Neely, Overton, Reynolds, Russell, Schwel-lenbach, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas of Okla., Thomas of Utah, Truman, Truman, Van Nuys, and Wheeler.

Republicans—(11)—Borah, Capper, Carey, Davis, Dickinson, Frazier, Gibson, Norris, Nye, Schall and Steiwer.

Progressives—(1)—LaFollette, Farmer-Labor—(1)—Shipstead. As debate proceeded before packed galleries, Patman forces desperately tried to swing votes their way.

Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., warned that sustaining of the veto would not kill the issue. Already bonusites are planning to offer a new plan if the Patman bill is killed.

"I've been beaten before and I can take my beating as well as any other," Long said. "If I'd be the only one beaten it wouldn't matter, but it's the veterans who are being beaten."

"Each of the veterans, with his wife and family, has figured he'd have the bonus money coming to him. They've calculated what they'd do with it. He'd pay the grocer, or pay for that suit he bought two years ago and is still wearing, or he'd send a boy or girl to school."

"That's going to be dashed to the bow-wows by this veto today."

Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, followed Long with an appeal for enactment of the bill.

"To say that it would result in inflation in the sense that the Germans or French inflated is accepting a premise that is not based upon historical fact," he said.

"That which we are about to do under this bill is not inflationary."

"I believe it's downright good business to pay this obligation before it's due," Thomas concluded. "It is utterly foolish to contend that payment of the veterans in cash instead of bonds is inflationary."

Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis, D., Ill., who voted for the Patman bill previously but was expected to switch, said informally outside the senate chamber that he intended to vote to override the veto.

Sen. Hiram Johnson, R., Cal., said he would vote to sustain.

Lewis' position indicated a maximum strength of 27 votes for the administration.

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., who did not attend the joint session yesterday, made an eloquent appeal for votes to override the veto. He said provisions of the bill "harmonize with the best interests of the country" although Mr. Roosevelt expressed a different opinion in "his very able veto message."

He dealt with the president's statement that the contract with veterans called for payment in 1945.

"What contracts have been observed in their technical effect during the cataclysm through which we have been passing?" he asked.

Forget Contracts

"This government disregarded its contracts. Governments which owed us have disregarded their contracts. Citizen after citizen has disregarded the strict terms of his contracts."

"If we hold the soldier to his contract he will be the only person so constrained."

"I received a letter from St. Louis this morning telling of a soldier who said he was drafted from a $2000 position, went to the front, received a 75 per cent disability rating which was rescinded by the economy act of 1933. He is living with his family on a dole of $1.68 per week in a room in a questionable boarding house."

"Is the government going to say to him that he and his family must stay in that questionable boarding house on the way to a pauper's grave?"

Borah referred to the president's action yesterday when the president quoted Borah as being opposed to any effort to aid the soldiers without "rehabilitating" the country.

"That statement was made 13 years ago when I was opposed to creation of any bonus legislation whatever," Borah said.

"I don't think now that you can aid the soldier without aiding the country. Any policy that undertakes to aid the soldier without aiding the country is doomed to failure."

"But I think that this measure would aid the country as a whole and I am supporting it for that reason."

Borah declared there was no comparison between issuing currency now and the inflation of the Civil War period.

"Back of this money is our gold and our silver and everything else that represents the credit of our country. It is true that the banks have plenty of money but it's also true that no one can get that money."

Sen. F. Ryan Duffy, D., Wis., spoke briefly in favor of the bill. "Reluctantly, I must vote against my leader," he said.

Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo, D., Calif., wartime secretary of the treasury, urged his colleagues to "exercise the same courage shown by the president when he vetoed the bill."

"That is highly important," he said, "if we are to maintain our independence."

McAdoo Deserts

McAdoo said he was a "friend and supporter" of Mr. Roosevelt, but on the bonus question "I must vote my conscience."

Sen. Frederick Steiwer, R., Ore., also pleaded for enactment of the bill.

"I'm for this bill because it undertakes to pre-pay the veterans at a time when they need it more than ever before," he said.

Sen. David I. Walsh, D., Mass., took up the debate at that time.

Walsh explained that he would vote against the bill because of its currency expansion feature.

"If we pass this measure over his veto the president has a complete alibi for the next 16 months," Walsh said. "I don't intend to give him that alibi."

"The minute this congress takes

ACTIVE IN P.-T. A. WORK

Mrs. W. T. Kirven, as head of the Fourth District P.-T. A., will lead an Orange county delegation to the state convention at San Diego next Monday. Mrs. Neil Beisel, of Santa Ana, right, seventh vice president of the state organization, will preside at several of the sessions.

G.A.R. VETERANS COMPLETE PLANS FOR OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY AT CEMETERY

flag on the grave on Memorial Day. C. F. Millen announced. They will throw the graves of the hero dead with flowers that grow in the soil they saved for freedom.

The average age of the few remaining members of Sedgwick post is 91 years. It is certain that at the most four members of the post will be able to take part in the exercises, these being Commander J. H. Brown, G. D. Campbell, W. J. Leiser and possibly J. M. Talcott.

There are but seven members of the post left, out of an original membership of more than 600. Other surviving members are P. D. Glover, E. H. Murphy and J. A. Wilkes.

Commander Brown and the few surviving members of the post today expressed sincere appreciation of the generosity of the schools and the general public in donating flowers to decorate the graves of the comrades who now have gone to their reward, and expressed the hope that the response will be as great this year.

Residents of Santa Ana and vicinity who have flowers they wish to donate have no way of sending them were urged to telephone 727-R or 1914-W and someone will call for them.

This year, for the first time in many years, there will be no Memorial Day service in Birch Park, and it may be that this is the last year in which the aged veterans of the Civil War will be able to take part in a Memorial Day service.

The years have taken their toll from the ranks of the boys in blue who valiantly fought for the high principles of freedom and to keep their country undivided. And those seven members of Sedgwick Post, Grand Army of the Republic, who remain out of a post membership of more than 600 may not be physically able to take part in services in future years.

to warn the public that we do not want donations of any articles that might be sold. And furthermore we want to caution the public at large against buying any articles from war veterans who represent themselves as selling to aid the bonus marchers."

Robertson voiced his threat of a new march on Washington at a meeting of veterans on the steps of city hall.

"If the senate sustains the veto," he said, "we will begin organizing tomorrow."

The 1932 bonus march precipitated a crisis in Washington in which riots and bloodshed ensued. Federal troops were called out by President Hoover to supersede police in command of the situation.

"There will be no women or children this time," Robertson said. "We mean business."

A complete set of plans for the march was outlined. The "march" would be made in automobiles. The caravan would "pay its way" across country by exhibiting talking motion pictures of the last bonus march. Admissions, under the plan, would be collected in the form of food.

"Right now," he said, "I want responsibility away from the president on a question of basic principle then the country has no one to hold responsible," Walsh shouted.

Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., veteran of numerous bonus fights, tore into Walsh's argument.

"I don't propose to guide the president into a position where he must take the blame because I shirked my duty."

"The responsibility is mine as well as yours. I don't propose to surrender my constitutional obligations."

SANTA ANANS TO ENGLAND WILL ATTEND STATE ENLIST PILOTS P.-T.A. MEET FOR AIR FLEET

A large delegation of Orange county members of the P.-T. A. will journey to San Diego Monday by special train for the annual convention of the California Congress of Parent-Teacher associations, to be held at the U. S. Grant hotel, May 27 to 31, inclusive.

Mrs. W. T. Kirven, of Garden Grove, Fourth District president, will lead the delegation, which will include the following Santa Ana members: Mrs. Neil Beisel, Mrs. E. H. Elmer, Mrs. Hugh Hougham, Mrs. James Givens, Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, Mrs. H. C. Drown, Mrs. E. C. Hagthorn, Dr. Hester Olewiler, Mrs. R. E. Steinberger, Mrs. R. S. Fipps, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, past president of the Santa Ana council, and Mrs. John Mills, newly elected president of the Santa Ana council.

Mrs. Drown will register Fourth District members at the U. S. Grant hotel. She will be assisted in this work by Mrs. W. W. Tanti-linger, of Tustin.

The Fourth District will meet with Fifth District representatives for their district dinner Tuesday evening, at the San Diego hotel. Each council of the districts is planning stunts during the dinner.

Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, national president, will be introduced at this meeting.

Mrs. Beisel, who is seventh vice president of the organization, will preside over the session of health division of classes and will also preside with Mrs. C. H. Turner Thursday evening, when the theme, "The Community, Its Contribution," will be discussed.

Among the prominent speakers who will address the convention are Governor Frank F. Merriam, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, and Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The date for his interment, which will be in Roosevelt Memorial Park, will be announced later. He was a member of the Gardena Lodge F. and A. M. The Harrell and Brown funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

It is their potentialities and what they are in process of becoming, which make us love people.

The retail division of the chamber was organized in order to promote retail sales events and to lead in chamber activities which affect the business element of the city.

SUSPECT ACCUSED BY ORANGE COUPLE

A warrant charging robbery was sworn out in Orange today against Richard C. Mustard, 23, who is now facing trial in Los Angeles on a similar charge. He was identified in Los Angeles Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. William G. L. Page, of 514 East Washington street, Orange, as the man who held them up in their home at 4:13 a. m. March 17. The bandit secured $400 in cash and checks.

Identification of the bandit suspect was brought about after Officer G. W. Coltrano had read a story in a Los Angeles newspaper of the arrest of Mustard on a robbery charge. Features of the Los Angeles case coincided with the Orange robbery and an investigation followed.

Officers believe that the bandit had been shadowing his victims all evening and followed them home.

The Pages identified a coat, a hat and a peculiarly marked handkerchief in a car owned by Mustard and traced by Los Angeles police, as the clothing worn by the bandit at the time he relieved them of their money.

With the Pages at the time they were robbed were Mr. and Mrs. O. F. D. Page, of San Clemente.

COUNTY OFFICIALS FACING ELECTION BUT REMAIN CALM

Orange county officials and employees are going to have another election tomorrow night.

But it isn't the kind they have to worry about. They do all the voting themselves.

The election comes in connection with the annual picnic of the Orange County Officers and Employees Association, to be held at Irvine park, beginning with a basket lunch at 6:30 p. m. New officers of the association will be chosen.

Entertainment has been arranged for the evening, part of which will be devoted to dancing, an orchestra having been engaged for the occasion.

JAYCEE YOUTHS GET FINES FOR DAMAGE SUIT TOWEL THEFTS

Appropriating towels belonging to the Southern Service company to their own private use proved expensive today for three Santa Ana Junior college youths, when they were fined $25 each for the offense by City Judge J. G. Mitchell.

By special permission of Judge Mitchell, the youths will be permitted to work out their fines by undertaking city employment on Saturdays and possibly one or two afternoons a week.

Complaints against the youths, charging petit theft, were signed by T. C. Wilson, Southern Service manager in Santa Ana, after officers had found about 75 Southern Service towels in their apartment.

The towels were taken from the Y. M. C. A. building, part of which has been used for junior college purposes the past year. A total of 276 bath towels, three sheets, 21 pillow slips, five blankets, a bed spread, and half a case of soap, have been taken from the Y. M. C. A. building during the past few months, according to report of D. H. Tibbals made to city police officers.

Arrest of three youths followed an investigation by Detective Lieutenant C. W. Wolford and Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey, of the towel thefts during which they searched the boys' apartment.

Kaufman raised the point that the plaintiff had not filed a damage claim first with the school board, as required by law. Attorney W. J. M. Helms, of Anaheim, representing the plaintiff, declared that he had laid the claim on the desk of the board's secretary during her absence.

The court granted a defense motion for non-suit, sustaining objections by District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Deputy W. F. Benton to the taking of evidence in the case, on the ground that the complaint failed to state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

The court granted a defense motion for non-suit, sustaining objections by District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and Deputy W. F. Benton to the taking of evidence in the case, on the ground that the complaint failed to state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Kaufman raised the point that the plaintiff had not filed a damage claim first with the school board, as required by law. Attorney W. J. M. Helms, of Anaheim, representing the plaintiff, declared that he had laid the claim on the desk of the board's secretary during her absence.

MERCHANTS TO HOLD BEACH PAGEANT SOON

Under the leadership of a special junior executives committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce retail division, the second big event of the year will be staged when the Beach and Sportswear Pageant is held in Birch park on the evening of June 21.

Included in the fashion event will be a snappy, fast-moving show with eight Fanchon and Marco girls and men who will present entertainment numbers. The girls also will model the latest styles in spring apparel for women, including sportswear and beach attire.

It is planned to make the event an annual affair, Lester J. Fountain, manager of the Broadway and West Coast theaters, is in charge of staging the colorful show which will be part of the pageant.

Amplifiers will make it possible for a large crowd easily to hear the music and entertainment. A runway will be built out from the stage in the park, on which the girls will model the clothing and bathing suits.

It will be a strictly professional affair and is expected to be the outstanding event of its kind ever staged in this city.

Further details of the program will be announced later. George Spielman is chairman of the committee in charge.

STEEL WORKERS TO GET CHANCE AT CITY JOBS

Orange county steel workers seeking employment on the Santa Ana city hall job will have an opportunity to demonstrate their qualifications Tuesday morning.

It was announced today when the tryouts, originally scheduled for this morning, failed to materialize.

Pouring of 200 yards of concrete started yesterday morning, was still under way today and a force of carpenters was busy preparing additional forms.

The job will probably be ready, and supplies of reinforcing steel on hand, for additional steel-setting operations by Tuesday morning, it was said, and workmen claiming to be competent rodmen will be given tryouts at that time.

"The policy of the Administration is to try and get an Orange county crew on this job," declared V. W. Houghton, PWA inspector on the city hall project today.

"We have arranged for local residents to be given tryouts for these jobs on Tuesday and it is now up to these men to show their competency to handle the work in a satisfactory manner. The men will be given a square deal and there will be no intimidation by any union."

The jury in the case of Manuel Castillo, of Cypress, charged with a triple criminal attack upon a 22-year-old Stanton girl, still was deadlocked today after deliberating 24 hours on its verdict. The case went to the jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court early yesterday afternoon.

TALLOW VATS DISCOVERED UNDER OLD ADOBE WALL AT CAPISTRANO MISSION

More and more knowledge of the early life of the inhabitants of the San Juan Capistrano mission is being obtained daily by workers uncovering drains and conduits dating back 75 years, which were discovered a month ago, it was revealed today.

Yesterday workers discovered several tallow rendering vats, in excellent preservation, buried four to five feet beneath the ground, and several broken pieces of crockery used by Indians a century ago.

These relics of the past are buried beneath the remains of an ancient adobe wall, and due to this are in an excellent state. So well have they been preserved, according to Father Arthur J. Hutchinson, mission padre, that grease can still be felt on the tallow vats, although they are more than 75 years old.

The discovery of the relics was originally made when workers in the garden dug into an old conduit, evidently used originally by the Indians at the mission to take water from the mission wells into the Indian village below the mission.

The work of excavation is being carried on by direct descendants of these early settlers in Capistrano, including Rudolph Yorba, Juan Mendoza and Sam Ramirez. Yesterday's discoveries were characterized by E. L. Howell, archeologist, as among the most important made at the mission.

INVITATION TO RETURN GIVEN TO DR. WARMER

By unanimous standing vote, the congregation of the First M. E. church, assembled in quarterly conference last evening, extended an enthusiastic invitation to Dr. George A. Warmer to return as their pastor for the ninth successive year. The report of the pulpit supply committee, of which O. H. Barr is chairman, was presented by R. D. Garner, as follows:

"It would be both superfluous and inappropriate for this committee to seek to rehearse to a company composed of the members of the First M. E. church of Santa Ana the capable and loyal service which Dr. George A. Warmer has rendered in past years and is still rendering—a service which transcends the immediate realm of the functions of the ordinary minister, and has become an important factor in the relief situation in this community.

"Your committee therefore merely desires to recommend—but with sufficient emphasis, we trust, to challenge the attention of the district superintendent, that the return of Dr. Warmer as our pastor for the ensuing conference year be asked and urged."

Dr. Warmer accepted the invitation, and took occasion to express his appreciation "of the splendid cooperation" that he has received during the past eight years, and complimented the efficiency "of the many faithful workers who are heading up the various departments of the church's activity."

Re-incorporated Under the guiding hand of S. M. Davis the church has been re-incorporated during the past few months, the original incorporation effected in 1923, having lapsed of its own limitation. The new board of trustees elected last night included A. J. Lasby, S. S. Vogt and F. P. Jayne for one-year term, and W. A. Taylor and O. H. Barr for two-year term; subsequent elections will be all for two-year terms.

The presentation of the annual reports was unique in the fact that it took the form of a "visualization" rather than a compilation of statistics. This took the form of a series of animated snapshots giving some idea of the activities of the many departments of the church and its educational activities, starting with the cradle roll and running on through all the various age groups.

Dr. Warmer gave a running report and resume of the work as the many graphic scenes were presented. The cradle roll, Mrs. S. S. Vogt, superintendent, has 27 members under 18 months; the nursery under Mrs. Wehrly has 16 enrolled; the pre-school age under Mrs. McKee Fiske, has 14; Mrs.

F. R. Schweitzer has 45 in the kindergarten; there are 54 in the primary; 87 in the junior under direction of Mrs. Metzgar, also 87 in the junior high department, emphasizing "Christian Leaders in Training," under Miss Schofield. Mrs. George B. Ames heads a full troop of 24 Girl Scouts. Mr. Stauffer has 68 enrolled in the high school department, majoring on World Friendship. The junior college group with their Wesley foundation activities, the Questers, coordinated with the work of the women's missionary societies, and the various adult department classes and activities were all portrayed. Special emphasis was laid on the work of this church in connection with the Mexican mission at First and Garfield. Santa Ana, toward which $100 of the church's World service fund is donated each month for the support of the mission.

Mission Gifts The church has paid its appropriation of $1000 toward the work of Dr. Wehrly in China for the current year, a total of $2767.28 having been collected for World Service since July 1, 1934. The total enrollment of the church school is 1001 and the attendance has averaged 60 per cent of that figure. There is an enrollment of 475 in the various adult classes, a new feature this year being the addition of a young people's business and professional group.

H. W. Guthrie, reporting on the general finances of the church, reported collections for the general fund since July 1, 1934, of $9471.14. The trustees reported real estate and buildings appraised at $130,000. The Women's Foreign Missionary society has 134 active members and raised $1380 last year. The Women's Home Missionary society has accepted an $860 apportionment for the current year. Both societies are active in the support of various institutional programs.

As representing the choir, Miss Thelma Glascock sang "The Holy City," following which Dr. Warmer read the names of the 25 members who have died since July 1, 1934. Forty members have gone to other churches, and 108 new members have been received during the current year, making a net gain in membership of 43 to date. Dr. James E. Dunning, recently appointed district superintendent for the San Diego district, conducted the conference, and was warmly welcomed by Dr. Warmer and the members of the church, with the expressed hope that he would be confirmed in the appointment by the coming annual conference. Dr. Dunning spoke encouragingly of the increased spirit of hopefulness and confidence which characterizes the churches of the district as evidenced in the 48 quarterly conferences that he has conducted thus far.

FLYING FISH ARRIVING AT NOTED RESORT

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., May 23.—Flying through the air with the greatest of ease, the gossamer-winged flying fish arriving at the noted resort.

ed for their seasonal visit in the warm waters of Santa Catalina Island. Strange to say, there are no flying fish in Mandalay. It is only at the Magic Isle that the flying fish play. Their annual advent in the island waters is the vanguard of summer just as the ground hog in the east heralds the coming of spring.

This week myriads of the blue and silver fish have set anglers predicting a phenomenal great game fishing season, as swordfish, giant tuna and white sea bass are caught with flying fish bait. Passengers on the nightly flying fish boat excursions from Avalon report the sight of silvery sheets of flying fish rising in the powerful rays of search-lights played over the surface of the sea a wonderful spectacle.

The flying fish of Santa Catalina are a distinct species, Cypselurus californicus. Their distinguishing characteristics are a single dorsal fin with enlarged pectoral fins to form organs of flight. The average body length is from 18 to 22 inches, with wing spread often of nearly three feet. The method of flight is not definitely known, some scientists believing that as soon as the wings are dry the fish drop back into the water. Others think that, similar to a glider, the long tail acts as a rudder and catapults them forward to distances up to 750 feet and heights of from 10 to 20 feet, their wings acting merely as flying planes.

A sticking transmission lock may be caused by a little grease that has worked up from the transmission.

FINGERPRINTS TO BE TAKEN BY TIRE FIRM

Participating in a nation-wide campaign of providing fingerprint identification cards for all citizens, Goodyear tire stations in Santa Ana, Anaheim, and Fullerton are now equipped to make fingerprint records for any who wish them, according to W. T. Sebelle, manager of Goodyear Service in Orange county today.

The Santa Ana store is located at 307 East First street. An identification card will be issued to each person printed, according to Sebelle, and the records will be used for identification purposes only. They have no connection with criminal files, it was explained.

The fingerprinting service now offered to the public of Orange county by Sebelle has been explained to peace officers of Orange county and they have expressed themselves as favoring universal fingerprinting to assist in the location of missing persons and for many other purposes.

By having a record of his fingerprints available, either at his home or on file with the proper authorities, a person greatly aids police in time of emergency, the Goodyear announcement states. The drive will seek to impress upon the nation the importance of preserving a record of the prints of each member of a household, and will also endeavor to make fingerprinting apparatus available.

"Forty thousand people disappear in one year in New York City alone," Sebelle said today. "Fingerprint records might conceivably have returned many of this number to their homes."

"We propose to make available to every resident of this city the means whereby he can obtain his fingerprints, and those of his family, which he can retain in his own home for use in an emergency. Then, if his child is lost, or some member of his family disappears during an attack of amnesia, he can give the police their most powerful weapon for returning the individual to his home, a positive means of identification."

Vets To Install Flower Containers For Lot Owners

Co-operation of all lot owners in the old Santa Ana cemetery on East Santa Clara avenue was asked today in keeping the memorial ground in a well kept condition at all times. The request was made by James O'Brien, superintendent, who said the county is making special effort to have the cemetery cleaned up and maintained in good condition. O'Brien asked that lot owners supply the regular flower containers for each occupied grave. They may be purchased at a nominal price at the cemetery office. O'Brien said, and will be installed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Orange.

During 1933, more than 1,672,000,000 passengers were carried by public carrier buses.

WASHINGTON

By Paul Mallon

RE-ELECTION

A leading non-partisan financial prognosticator has burst into headlines with a prediction that President Roosevelt will be re-elected next year. This is substantially the private view of some of the most astute republicans in congress, as expressed during the last two weeks.

"What they believe is that the Democrats have 'Tammanized' the country, as they call it. What they mean is that Mr. Roosevelt's associates have built up strong precinct organizations out through the country. These certainly comprise the strongest national political organization the Democrats ever had.

The nucleus of the old perpetuating Republican organization was largely centered in postmasterhips and regular federal offices. The Democrats have doubled or trebled the extent of this old basis through various governmental organizations. For instance, there are 2,000 county agents in the AAA who have their hands always on the grass roots.

In addition, the administration will spend upwards of four billions out in the country during the next 18 months before election.

No opposition can hope to match these two practical technical influences, the importance of which is recognized by all who study the science of politics.

PUBLICITY

These underlying advantages have been overlooked by all except the politicians lately, because the opposition has had an edge in publicity. For the first two years of the New Deal, the opposition publicity could not get started. Pro-administration agitation predominated in the newspapers, on the radio, etc. During the last six months, this advantage has been gradually weakened until now the opposition is getting as much or more public attention than the New Deal.

This is so obvious that all persons with the sense of sight or hearing already know it. But the politicians are not over-estimating the influence of it.

In fact, one of the reasons why some Republicans are talking down their chances now is to hold back on the spread of anti-New Deal publicity. They think it got started too soon, that there will be a natural reaction. They realize fully the equal or greater importance of organization and expenditures.

The status of these three major factors may be altered within the coming year. It is, therefore, too early now for anything except good guesses. That is all these current opinions are.

HOUSE

Another financial authority has made a survey predicting the Republic will gain 90 seats in the house next time. This is almost ridiculous. The issue next time will be Mr. Roosevelt, Congressional candidacies will not matter. The people of this country have not been educated to splitting tickets. Whichever way Mr. Roosevelt goes, the average Democratic candidate for congressmen and dog-catcher will go with him.

EXIT

Chairman Joseph Kennedy of the Securities and Exchange commission is supposed to be quietly preparing to leave his job in the fall. His personal business affairs are (or were) extensive. He left them to take the job with the understanding he would go back to private business when the commission was fully organized and operating.

Of course, there is always the chance that Mr. Roosevelt will talk him into staying a longer time. However, the outlook suggests that the president is going to have to get a group of new aides during the next year. Ace Richberg is leaving the NRA June 16, in accordance with the agreement made with labor weeks ago. Ace Farley is supposed to leave the cabinet to handle the campaign around the first of the year.

In each reshuffle, of course, there is always the possibility of drawing devils as well as aces.

PREMEDIATION

The senate progressives planned for a week to walk out silently and indignantly when the oath was administered to Senator Chavez. The unique idea seems to have originated with Senator Borah. He and his associates were careful to be in their seats at noon each day for several days prior to the incident, so they would not miss the opportunity.

The press galleries had been tipped to watch for it. Otherwise they might not have noticed. It was done unostentatiously. The inner purpose was to impress the White House with their deep resentment because of the administration's efforts to defeat their friend, Senator Cutting. It is really the only thing they hold against Mr. Roosevelt, and they blame that on Postmaster General Farley.

PSYCHIC TRICK

The old telegram and letter method of lobbying is beginning to lose its influence on congressmen.

For example, capable Senator Clinton's secretary was thumbing through the morning mail the other day. An observer noted that he threw half the letters into the wastebasket without opening them, and inquired why.

"Oh, those are all utility letters against the holding company bill," the secretary replied.

This was doubted by the observer, who noticed that the envelopes were of different size and were addressed by different hands. Plunging into the wastebasket, the observer opened each letter and discovered the secretary was correct.

The secretary explained his psychic trick by pointing out that the letters of one day usually came ## from the same town, next day from another town. That day they happened to be from Troy, N. Y. Next day, he said, they would probably be from Buffalo, etc.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

ENHANCED

New York insiders credit Railroad Commissioner Joe Eastman with a shrewd move that has enhanced his public attention. The resolution for a senate investigation of railroad financing—sponsored by Senator Wheeler and approved after a delay by the senate audit committee—contains a provision that the coordinator shall designate which railroads shall be the subject of inquiry.

You can see what a grip that gives Eastman on refractory rail executives. He can simply tell them that if they don't play ball with him he will put their roads on the list to be investigated. Most of them would be glad to jump through any number of hoops rather than face that prospect.

Another factor undoubtedly entered into Eastman's urging that he be made the arbiter of this delicate matter. The committee has only a vague idea of what it's trying to prove and would probably fritter away its appropriation to no purpose unless guided by someone who knows what it's all about—which Eastman certainly does. But however you look at it, the coordinator's importance to those he's supposed to boss is greatly enhanced.

DISILLUSION

A few weeks ago the railroads were all pepped up at the prospect of real legislative help from Congress. Anything seemed possible when the senate voted—after years of indifference—to bring competing forms of transportation under the wing of the Interstate Commerce Commission. But the House has done nothing about it and the chances are that it won't.

New York sharps figure that from here on it will take a double underlined "must" for the White House to get action on any measure that hasn't demonstrated tremendous popular support—and even then you can't be sure. Railroad men have no idea that the President will high-spot their needs in preference to other measures he must fight for—so they have put their hopes back in moth-balls. They sadly remark that they're used to disillusion by now.

GHOST

International monetary stabilization is a lot closer than it looks, remarks by Morgenthau, Neville Chamberlain and other spokesmen indicate that each nation is willing to stabilize if someone else will start the ball rolling—but this reticence is chiefly for the purpose of convincing the home folks in each country that their respective governments don't intend to be taken in by foreign slickers.

Well-posted sources learn that real progress is being made despite the "after you" iphonesque attitude. This isn't to say that stabilization will be achieved next week or next month. There are many obstacles still in the way which may take a long time to surmount—especially the feeling of politically potent groups in the United States and Great Britain that a return to an international metallic standard must be avoided at all costs. But paste it in real time, and the long road of agreement will probably be reached before the end of the year.

Reports that the old war debts ghost must be laid before a final adjustment is reached are correct. This isn't as impossible as it appears. Informed New Yorkers understand that Congressional sentiment is growing in favor of allowing the President to negotiate debt settlements. The boys are discovering that they will never collect a nickel by sitting on a high horse and calling everybody else defaulters—while there may be a few dimes to be picked up if we are willing to talk things over.

TESTS

The Wagner labor bill passed the Senate with affirmative votes from conservative Republican Senators Barbour (N. J.), White (Me.), and Stetson (Ore.). You couldn't ask a better tip-off on what's happening behind the scenes. In that district opposition has been virtually called off. Big business is more alarmed by the recent flowering of left wing labor sentiment than by the threat to its cherished company unions.

But don't think for a moment that industry intends scrupulous obedience to the law if it goes through. What are courts for if not to defend business against unconstitutional invasion of rights? Let the bill pass—and then challenge it with deliberate disregard.

HEARTFELT

There's one aspect of the bonus situation which worries the wealthy considerably more than the fiat money menace. They have a premonition that in the end they will have to foot the bill. Nothing has been said about it since Secretary Morgenthau dropped a gentle hint about inheritance taxes a few weeks back—but there are submarine rumblings that this solution may be accepted as a happy one by everybody except those who get soaked.

DISPELLED

Investment trusts are glad that the Securities Commission has finally gotten around to issuing their registration regulations. But they do wish Joe Kennedy hadn't found it necessary to require such extraordinary detail about every transaction they make. This means a lot of additional clerical expense. Sadder yet, it dispels the last faint trace of the magic aura which surrounded this type of company in the happy '20's and helped them to market their securities.

SIDELIGHTS

Frightened capital from France was a big factor in last week's stock market boom. It's estimated that 13 per cent more corn, 13 per cent more peas and 12 per cent more tomatoes will be raised in the United States this year than last. That's swell news for the canning industry. . . . Traders seeking a hedge against inflation were busy last week with the oils and coppers.

Club Hears Talk ON STATE SCHOOL

ANAHEIM, May 23.—The up-lifting work done for problem boys over the age of eight was described by Judge Milne, superintendent of the State School for Boys at Whittier, in a talk before the Kiwanis club Tuesday. The speaker was a guest of J. A. Clayes, chairman of the day.

He explained that boys must spend two months in isolation from other boys when first entering the school before they can become a part of school life. It is during this time that they are examined physically and mentally and meet the members of the administration, who make a thorough study of them. The boys are allowed to choose their own course of study and their own advisors, the speaker said. Eventually they usually become honor students and are put on their own responsibility. When time to leave, a foster home is often found for them and they are kept under the supervision of the school for two years, the speaker concluded.

New Books IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

By VERA RAMSEY

Agnes Rothery travels with her eyes and her mind wide open. Her books are alive with the inner personality of the lands she visits. In their intimate portraiture, they are fascinating to those who can wander into far places, and also to those who must be content with reading of such wanderings.

"Images of Earth" is the portrait of Guatemala, a remote little country, mysterious and contradictory. Within the narrow borders of this land, life varies from the steady indolence of tropic jungles to the unswerving independence of high mountains. Bright new American cities, tiny Indian villages older than memory, Spanish ruins half hidden by the jungle, all cling to the treacherous security of volcanic slopes. Miss Rothery has chosen to describe this country in glimpses, bits of scenery, vivid little sketches, tales of folk-lore and stories of modern adventure reveal the land, simply and charmingly, with an intimacy impossible in a formal study. The reader learns to know it in a way that the author herself came to know it. Here are a few connected facts about the machete or the banana tree, now a breath-taking description of a volcano in eruption. Stories of English renegades and Spanish grandees alternate with accounts of modern exploration and modern crime; native humor and native tragedy appear in abundance. The material is as varied as the country itself and as fascinating.

Thirty-two photographs by the author's husband, Harry Rogers Pratt, supplement the text. The illustrations are excellent and the prose is excellent reading written with grace. Together these form a book engrossing in itself, and invaluable to the student or traveler seeking a true appreciation of Guatemala.

Ernest Findlay Scott has been Professor of New Testament Literature at Union Theological Seminary since 1919. He is an acknowledged authority on the subject. His new book "The New Testament Idea of Religion" is a Religious Book Club Selection.

In this book Dr. Scott gives an answer to the basic question—"How has man known God?" It asks this question simply and just as simply answers it for every interested reader. Dr. Scott points out that Christianity is a revealed religion and the idea of revelation permeates the New Testament. Yet nowhere in the Gospels of the later writing is the meaning of the word explained. The author believes that "God cannot be known unless is revealed. Further, he believes that much of the confusion in modern religious thinking is due to nothing else than a vague use of the word revelation. Dr. Scott makes a systematic attempt to clear up this haziness. In order to do so, he goes back to the New Testament itself and demonstrates what its writers meant by revelation and how only through revelation may the never-fading newness and wonder of Christianity have their greatest meaning and power.

As a clear, satisfying and unequivocal answer to this fundamental question, Dr. Scott's book takes its place as one of the essential volumes for the earnest Christian thinker, preacher, or layman.

In "The Frontier Nurses," Ernest Poole gives us a new tale of heroism.

This book is the dramatic story of the organization and work of frontier nurses down in the Kentucky mountains. These trained nurse midwives on horseback, on call at all hours day and night ride the trails to lonely cabins to bring new life into the world and save the life already there. Often having to swim their horses over swollen rivers and creeks, they ride through storms of rain or snow and in the wet weather wear rubber hoods and capes like those of the Canadian Mounted Police.

Mr. Poole went to Kentucky last year. With Mary Breckinridge, founder and director, rode the rounds of the nine nursing centers. These are scattered over a district of some seventy or thirty miles, in the region of the moonshiners and family feuds of former days. He rode out with the nurses to visit their patients and make friends with the mountaineers. His book is filled with revealing stories of their lives, and the services of the nurses. He writes with a fine understanding of the human problems being faced, the splendid work that is being done, and the national significance of this pioneer work on other of our old neglected frontiers.

Laguna Council Turns Down Parallel Parking Plan

OWNERSHIP OF BEACH AREA TO BE DETERMINED

LAGUNA BEACH, May 23.—A proposal to establish parallel parking on Coast highway within the city limits, including the downtown business section, was defeated at an adjourned meeting of the city council held yesterday afternoon. The proposed parking method had been requested by the state highway department as a means of speeding up the flow of through traffic on the highway.

Petitions protesting parallel parking in the business zone, carrying more than 60 signatures of business men and women, were read at the meeting. These petitions were supplemented by verbal representations on the part of a delegation of business men, headed by R. A. Bird, owner of the White House cafe. Among those speaking against the proposal, besides Bird, were William F. Harrell, importer, and Fred Carpenter, grocer. They were aided by Councilman L. F. Mallory, who contended that parallel parking would not improve traffic conditions, but only serve to reduce parking space and discourage people from patronizing downtown establishments.

Mayor Frank B. Champion told his colleagues that he had been approached on the question of establishing a centrally located freight depot in the downtown section where trucks could unload merchandise. H. H. Henshaw, property owner, stressed the need for a centrally located depot in the business district for the handling of deliveries to merchants. He called attention to efforts made in the past to have an alley opened up between Ocean and Forest avenues for delivery purposes. The discussion was brought to a close with a decision to amend the traffic ordinances so as to prohibit parking of trucks on main thoroughfares except at designated loading places.

City Attorney Milburn Harvey reported it would cost $25, or perhaps less, to search the title of the Laguna Hotel corporation, this with a view of ascertaining its right to fence off a section of the beach and reserving the same for its own use.

"The city could never make a better investment," declared Councilman Tom Cummings, who urged steps be taken to determine for once and for all the ownership of the beach. On motion of Councilman Mallory the city attorney was directed to proceed with the search of the title and report back the findings.

New Voters Sought For Harbor Area

NEWPORT BEACH, May 23.—President Mark J. Johnson of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce has appointed a special committee, consisting of L. W. Briggs, C. R. Hopkins and H. L. Sherman, to undertake a survey of non-resident beach property owners in an attempt to have them change their registration to Newport.

The plan, according to chairman Briggs, would allow a greater portion of home owners in the area to have a voice in city affairs. Many hundreds of prominent and influential citizens of Southern California are home and property owners in the district, and their help and influence actively working for the community would do a great deal to still further advance the area, he said.

It is also proposed to invite these same non-resident owners to assume an active interest in the chamber of commerce and other civic enterprises, following the plan started last year, when eight prominent summer-home owners were added to the directorship of the chamber.

STORE OWNER NEW MEMBER CITY COUNCIL

LA HABRA, May 22.—James E. Tracy, local grocer, was sworn in as councilman at the meeting of the La Habra city council Tuesday night, taking the place of Herbert S. Lytle, who resigned two weeks ago. Mr. Lytle moved to his new home, which is located outside of the city limits. Lytle was elected last year for a four-year term.

Following Tracy's appointment to the council, Mayor Charles Newsom, announced his standing committee as follows: Police and light, A. J. Wilson and A. L. Thurnher; building and fire, John T. Frazier, and J. E. Tracy; streets and sewers, Thurnher and Wilson; health and sanitation, Tracy and Frazier; water, Frazier and Wilson; finance, Thurnher and Tracy, and purchasing committee, Thurnher, Frazier and Wilson.

A report was read concerning the outfall sewer chlorination plant which is operated by the cities of Anaheim, Santa Ana, Orange, La Habra, Fullerton, Garden Grove and Buena Park, showing that the expenses of operation for the past three months to be $1404, of which La Habra's share was $123.20. La Habra's total showed 7,512,912 gallons, a slight increase over last month.

The water department report for the month of April showed a balance in the operating fund April 1, 1935, of $2,214.74; water sales, April 1, 1935, $1,496.12; consumers' deposits, $27; miscellaneous receipts, $2,759.45, less total disbursements of $1,364.93, and leaving a balance in the operating fund May 1, 1935, of $2,394.72.

Total sales for the month of April were $1,523.07 and total sales for the period July 1, 1934 to April 1, 1935, were $15,140.91, making total sales to date of $16,664.88. The total sales for the same period last year were $16,921.30, or $256.42 less in 1935. This difference was explained as being due to the heavy rains during this season as compared to the dry season last year.

Lagunans In Search For Old Painting

LAGUNA BEACH, May 23.—With the unexplained disappearance of the old town pump, and art colony's first water works, and a treasured landmark, removed from its location alongside the canyon road, the villagers today were instituting a search for another cherished possession—the old painting that pointed the way toward Laguna at the Irvine intersection.

The painting, sufficiently large to cover a billboard, depicted a beach scene. It was painted some 12 years ago by the late Conway Griffith, noted artist, who donated his services for the benefit of the school. Following the death of Conway, the painting began to show the effects of wear and exposure, and it was touched up by the late Miss Anna Hills, one of the village's foremost painters and first president of the art association.

At a chamber of commerce meeting held this week, inquiries were made as to what has become of the painting, and it became known that it had been made of the same. Reports are to the effect that it was removed by the state highway department. In the meantime, however, the villagers want the painting restored to them.

The compositions used in the play are the "Eccosaises," "The Moonlight Sonata," "Sonata Appassionata" and the opening bars of the "Ninth Symphony."

San Clemente chapter of the Eastern Star entertained the deputy grand matron, Ince E. Orton, of Huntington Beach, who made an official visit here and presided at the special meeting this week at the social clubhouse.

Mr. Orton was accompanied by her husband, Clarence Orton, worthy patron of Seaside chapter, and Mrs. Mary Ziegler, worthy matron of the same district.

Attending the session from Huntington Beach were Mrs. Linda Archer, Mrs. Jean McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. David Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harpold.

The club rooms were decorated in red roses and white lilies. A miniature lake depicting camping scenes and days of '49 formed the centerpiece for the table at which refreshments were served. Individual favors in the form of covered wagons indicated the seating arrangement of the visitors.

Following the official business a short program was presented.

FORBID USE OF FIREWORKS IN FOREST AREAS

An announcement to the effect that in the entire Cleveland Forest discharge of fireworks of any kind will be prohibited as well as on national forest land, was received by Captain Battles of Capitano CCC camp company 912 today. Camping requirements and state and national park regulations were enumerated in the restrictions received from Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Cleveland National Forest, Palomar district.

The north end of the main Palomar district and the Lost Valley unit, lying north of Warner Hot Springs, are closed to all public use except by permit issued by a forest officer.

The entire Trabuco area, lying in San Diego, Orange and Riverside counties is closed with the exception of recreation areas of the Ortega highway, Skyline drive from Corona to the Santa Ana summit, Trabuco and San Juan canyons.

In commenting on this announcement Ellis called attention to the abnormal growth of grass and annual weeds which creates fire hazards during dry seasons.

All members of the forestry department made a plea to the public for cooperation on the part of forest visitors in order to reduce the number of fires for the coming season.

NEW MAE WEST FILM NOW AT WEST COAST

Mae West is back on the screen in a modern drama with ultra-modern gowns and up-to-date settings in her new picture, "Goin' to Town," which opens a week's engagement at the West Coast theater today.

Seven "tall, dark and handsome" succumb to the blonde star's charms in this new picture, which is said to be Miss West's best film so far. Paul Cavanaugh, who heads the supporting cast, is the only man whose affection she reciprocates in the film.

Acting the role of a cattle baron's widow, Mae West follows her man all over the American continents through Buenos Aires to the strongholds of society at Southampton, where she surrenders to her, Ivan Lebedeff, Tito Coral, Monroe Owsley, Gilbert Emery and Grant Withers furnish plenty of competition for Cavanaugh. There are some grand and exciting race sequences in the Buenos Aires scenes; there is intrigue, and plotting, and murder, advance notices say.

State Park Camp

SAN CLEMENTE, May 23.—Preliminary to the match slated for next week, a boxing bout was presented to officers and employees of camp company No. 1945 on Monday evening.

Eddie Melendres and Henry Rios staged the first event. Both weighed in at 145 pounds. The hit of the evening was the contest between Walter Ovidia and Joe Dragna, who "fast and furiously" gave us the treat of good boxing," according to Lieutenant Kennedy. The three judges gave their decision in favor of Dragna.

After the "fights," a motion picture, titled "Above the Clouds," was shown through the courtesy of the March Field camera service.

John G. Friar, formerly stationed at Camp Oak Glen, has been appointed new educational advisor to company No. 1945. Friar arrived in camp on Monday, and will remain indefinitely.

MUSIC TO BE FEATURED AT BIG EXPOSITION

SAN DIEGO, May 23.—For the first time in the history of Expositions and Fairs, music definitely will have an Exposition of its own at the California Pacific International Exposition which opens at San Diego, California on May 23.

Plans for the "music exposition" which has been called the Festival of Music... call for international participation by bands, choruses, a Capella Choirs, orchestras and artists. Invitations have been mailed to organizations throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe and already more than 300 musical organizations have filed registration blanks containing tentative reservations to appear at the Exposition during the season of May 29 to November 11, inclusive.

The Orange County band of Santa Ana is among the outstanding musical organizations of the United States which was chosen by Harold Wm. Roberts, executive director of the music department, and Dr. Charles Wakefield Cadman, famous composer and chairman of the honorary music committee, to be extended invitations to appear. The choice was made on the basis of excellence of the organization from a musical standpoint and its reputation as a representative of music of that particular locality.

Roberts was director of music at the Olympic Games and created the musical spectacles which brought him such international fame that he was invited to appear in several parts of the world on a world tour shortly after the games.

Zack J. Farmer, manager of the exposition, said that the program for the Festival of Music will exceed even the spectacles of the Games, however.

The program of the music festival includes almost continuous concerts by bands, choruses, orchestras and artists in the Organ Pavilion, the Ford Bowl, the Palace of Hospitality, the Palace of Education and the California State Building.

In addition, strolling troubadours and musical ensembles of national groups will move through the crowds serenading along the avenue of Palaces and other sections of the Exposition.

Many internationally famous artists, including Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Helk, have already signified their intention of appearing as guest artists at the Exposition.

Because of the fact that the Festival of Music is actually one of exhibits at the Exposition, there will be no extra charge for admission to the musical programs and it has been possible to secure outstanding artists through their own desire to contribute to the furtherance of their art.

"An estate awaits you!" These thrilling story-book words have come true for William J. Smith, according to a letter received today by Chief of Police Floyd Howard, who was asked to assist in locating Smith.

The letter is from Mrs. Elizabeth Baker of Berkeley, and asked Howard's assistance in locating her brother, William J. Smith, whom she had heard was staying with a friend, Rube Smith, in or near Santa Ana.

Smith is the son of John and Margaret Smith of Grants Pass, Oregon, and when found is to benefit from the estate of an uncle, according to the letter.

HAWKINS' LEGS MAKE HIM GREAT COLLEGE PROSPECT

The object of the scouts' affection is a black-haired giant who graduates from the halls of Santa Ana high school next month.

His name is Granville William Hawkins—William to his parents, Willie to his sister, Will to his brothers, just plain Bill to you and me.

Bill is a brother of Arch and John Hawkins, who made football history at Fullerton and U. S. C., the latter being a former Trojan captain and all-coast guard. Some believe Bill is going to be a better athlete than either of his able brethren.

Bill Hawkins gives the scouts nothing to worry about except the college he chooses. He has every grade, including A's, no special examinations, no back-door entrances for Mr. Hawkins. His credits—fifteen of 'em straight A's—will be accepted gladly by any university in the country.

Stanford, no easy institution to crash, has awarded Hawkins a university scholarship; not an athletic merit but a student's scholarship won in honest competition with the finest young minds in the land. Hawkins enters the Palo Alto institution in October.

College scouts think Hawkins will be a great athlete because he has legs.

Legs mean everything in the game of football, and Hawkins has them in abundance. He is a natural athlete, a natural runner, a natural jumper, a natural kicker, a natural punter, a natural everything.

REOPEN AMATEUR BOXING ARENA

LEMON-SPEARS BOUT FEATURES RING REVIVAL

Promoter Sam Sampson reopens the doors of his Orange County Athletic club tonight, reviving amateur boxing here after an interlude of six months.

The big arena on Highway 101 has been repainted and redecorated for the gala eight-event program which brings the fistic game back to the sports parade.

Matchmaker Ben Steffler, formerly connected with clubs at San Bernardino, Calexico and Ontario, is the only new member of Sampson's official staff. May Middough will do the announcing and Bill Jones remains as timekeeper.

Matchmaker Steffler was Tom Jones' trainer when Jones had Jess Willard, Ad Wolgast and Billy Papke.

Steffler has light heavyweights in his main event.

Five Ebony Boys on Card

The feature, a five-rounder, sends Lupe (Young) Lemon of Fullerton, heavily-muscled brother of Romeo Lemon, against "Tiger" Jack Spears of the Ebony club, a stable of Los Angeles colored battlers who several times last year, Ebony club boys figure in five of the eight spots on the opening card.

Lemon and Spears come in at 175 pounds, give or take three pounds.

Lemon will go into the pit a slight favorite although he hasn't met a boy of Spears' class for months. Lupe has never lost at O.C.A.C., according to his handlers, and his reverses elsewhere have been few and far between.

Trainer "Pop" And is confident Lemon will win.

Art Arroya of Westminster and "Bucky" Riggs of the Ebony stable appear in the semi-windup at 145 pounds. Arroya was the most consistent winner of all Orange county amateurs last season. With a string of 11 successive victories here, he once contemplated turning professional to pick up the real dough, but was persuaded to postpone his departure from simon-pure ranks until he had acquired greater experience.

Sanchez in Special Spot

"Tomahawk" Sanchez, Talbert's contribution to the mainly art show in the special event against Matty Jones, Ebony club 135-pounder.

Leo "Chief" Lopez, El Modena's bristly little bantam, appears against Billy Fields, 118-pounder, Ebony club representative.

A notable boy in the lineup is Santa Ana's Doyle Richards, colorful 165-pounder who is matched against Frank Barro, Garden Grove veteran who takes 'em all on regardless of weight or skill. Richards has never fought at Sampson's club but he was a regular on all the old Delhi programs.

Others bouts: Frank Lockhart, Santa Ana, vs. Gil Lopez, Long Beach, 120 pounds; "Buck" Durbin, Santa Ana high school vs. Al Townsend, Ebony club, 155 pounds; Larry Fleming, vs. Eddie Smith, 160 pounds.

Promoter Sampson promises free parking, adequate police protection. Admission prices range from 25 cents to 75 cents, the latter for reserved ringside.

Captain Bill Hawkins of Santa Ana High school's track team today had a new trophy to add to his mounting collection of athletic souvenirs.

He received a large bronze statuette for having shared with Edgar Lewis, San Diego sprinter, the honor of making the most individual points at the Coast Preparatory league meet at Glendale May 4. A figure of an athlete in stride appears on the model which is 9 1/2 inches in height. Lewis received a duplicate award.

Hawkins won both hurdles at the Coast league meet, setting a conference record of 15.3 seconds in the highs.

Major Leagues' First Nocturnal Game Postponed

CINCINNATI, O., May 23.—(UP)—The Cincinnati-Philadelphia National league baseball game scheduled for tonight was postponed until Friday night by general manager Larry MacPhail of the Reds because of rain and cold. The game will be the first major league baseball contest ever played at night.

Baer Sustains 'Slight' Wrist Sprain

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 23.—(UP)—Max Baer, world's heavyweight boxing champion, suffered a "slight sprain" of his wrist today when he attempted to close the door of an automobile in which he was riding from Niagara Falls to Buffalo.

The car, containing Baer, Ancil Hoffman, his manager, Dolph Thomas, his trainer, and a Buffalo newspaperman, was speeding at about 50 miles an hour when one of the doors of the automobile opened.

Baer made a grab for the door, but the force of the wind blew it wide open, pulling Baer from the seat of the car.

City League's Favored Clubs Clash Tonight

One of the outstanding favorites in pre-city league ratings, the Santa Ana 20-30 club's ball team comes up for a real test tonight when it plays the Commercial National bank, 1934 champion, at the Municipal Bowl at 8:30.

The 20-30's are undefeated. The Bankers have won one and lost one.

Claude Gregory is slated to do the pitching for the clubmen, backed by a group of the best hitters in the circuit. Jimmie Webb toils for the Commercial.

The 7:30 curtain-raiser matches the First National bank's undefeated outfit and the South Methodist seniors. Big Walt Jordan will work for the First Nationals, Jimmy Haynes for the church nine.

Second-round games are scheduled tonight in the Orange County Night Ball league.

The feature attraction, on paper, is the battle between Fullerton and San Juan Capistrano at Fullerton. Irvine invades Huntington Beach. Brea's champions open Placentia's handsome new ball park. Garden Grove goes to Olive.

Officials of the Santa Ana Stars anticipate the biggest turnout so far this season for their big game with Huntington Beach here tomorrow night. The teams are heading for the National Night Ball league without defeat. Jim Coates and "Chico" Sabella have been selected to do the mound work.

Bill Cole, Santa Ana's manager, had the satisfaction today of learning he was correct in his protest of the Santa Ana-Long Beach game last Tuesday. Had the Stars lost, President Walter Wentz would have ordered the contest replayed. Wentz said Umpire Art Sandberg ruled improperly when he allowed two batters to score on a passed ball. National league rules are explicit on the subject, Wentz contended.

SET STANDARDS FOR N. C. A. A. TRACKFEST

BERKELEY, May 23.—(UP)—University of California authorities today announced a set of minimum performance standards for athletes seeking to enter the National Collegiate Athletic Association meet at Edwards field June 21-22.

It was understood only athletes meeting the standards would participate in the distribution of the $12,500 expense fund. Others, however, may compete if they wish. The same plan was in force at the NCAA Games at Los Angeles last year.

William Monahan, University of California graduate manager, announced the following standards: 100-yard dash, 9.8 seconds; 220, 21.3 seconds; 440, 48.9; 880, 1:56; mile, 4:22; two mile, 9:40; 120-yard high hurdles, 14.9; 220-yard low hurdles, 23.8; shot put, 48 feet, 6 inches; discus, 150 feet; javelin, 200 feet; hammer throw, 150 feet; high jump, 6 feet 4 inches; broad jump, 24 feet; pole vault, 13 feet, 6 inches.

M'LEMORE SAYS BROWNS. PHILS OUGHT TO QUIT

BY HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 23.—Without making a scene, will someone please slip up to teacher's desk during recess and explain to him just what in the name of common sense the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics are aiming at.

Because teacher, despite a most careful study of the little red book that is supposed to have all the answers, can't figure out what these two ball teams are doing. Teacher was taught that the primary purpose of a baseball team was to win games, and that the best way to achieve this purpose was to collect a quorum of capable pitchers and have them throw deceptive articles at the opposition.

From Different Schools

The Browns and the Phillies, however, must have gone to an entirely different school than teacher, for their aim in life seems to be the losing of ball games. As soon as they land a pitcher who can throw two strikes in a row they stop the game, run out on the field and pin a prize tag on his bosom, and set an auctioneer to working up in the mezzanine.

The first thing teacher saw in the papers after an eight-day retreat in the Catskills with Ross and McLarnin was that the Browns had sold "Buck" Newsom to the Athletics. With these two gone, the Browns pitching staff is as futile as a one-armed cymbal player. It doesn't make sense, a team that has won only five games of 24 played selling the only two pitchers on its staff capable of putting more on the ball than perspiration and a prayer.

Should Quit League

Only a few days ago the Phillies sold Phil Collins to the Cards. Now, the Phils selling a pitcher—even a pitcher whose sole assets are a pair of flannel pants and an inability to duck—is like a beggar reaching into his tin cup and taking one of his precious coins and handing it to Andy Mellon. Better still, it's like a fellow that is being beaten over the head with a club, handing his assailant another club and saying: "Now you can hit me twice as hard and twice as often."

Of course, teacher has heard that times are so bad with the Phils and the Browns that it's sell or quit. Well, why don't they quit? Nobody would accuse them of being cowards, for lawdy knows they have taken beatings long enough. In their weakened, impoverished condition they definitely are not assets to the National and American leagues.

The Browns, in all their years in the American, never have won a pennant, and the Phillies haven't scored since 1915. By this time they should be convinced that baseball isn't the game for them. Why don't they organize a little two-team donkey baseball league? Or is that what they've been playing all the time?

Next Wednesday night, in the Municipal Bowl, the Saints wind up their spring football practice with the annual This Year vs. Last Year game.

Coach Foote has picked the seven 1935 linemen he'll start against the '34 troupe, and has tentatively selected his four first-string backs.

Jack Robinson, 173 pounds, will be at center. Joe Crawford, 184, and Lyle Moyer, 174, will be at guard. Crawford was a tackle last year. Jim Crowther, 185, and Bob Reid, 190, will play tackle. Bill

Little Twice Victor But Other Yanks Lose

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, England, May 23.—(UP)—Lawson Little of San Francisco reached the round of eight in the British Amateur golf championship today while two of the brightest English stars in his pathway towards successful defense of his crown were eliminated.

Little beat a Scottish star, H. G. Macallum, 2 and 1, in the fourth round and beat J. L. Black, unknown Welshman, 2 up this afternoon.

The other three players who came from the United States for the tourney and who had survived the first three days of play, were eliminated today.

Capt. A. Bullock-Webster of San Francisco, lost in the fourth round this morning by J. Morton Dykes, Jr., 4 and 2. Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., beat Olav Austreng, 6 and 4, in the morning, but was put out in the fifth round by Eric Fiddian, Scottish star, 2 and 1.

Dan Topping, also of Greenwich, beat Edward Kule, 1 up this morning, and foundered before H. L. Q. Henriques, 4 and 3, in the fifth round.

Leslie Garnett, whom Little was expected to meet in the quarter-finals tomorrow, was put out by Henriques, 4 and 3, in the fourth round. Cyril Tolley, long-hitting English ace, popular choice for a semi-final match with Little Friday, was ousted by A. M. Goodwin, 1 up.

Robert Sweeny, former New Yorker who now lives in London, scored an extra-hole victory over W. M. Robb of England, to gain a place in the round of eight.

Saints Sign Pomona; Bowl Lineups Named

Closing with Pomona officials, Milligan, 184, and Captain Erwin Youel, 160, are the ends. Harold Coach Bill Foote today virtually completed Santa Ana high school's 1935 football schedule.

The only uncertain date now on the Saint card is Oct. 12. Officials of Herbert Hoover high school of San Diego want the Santa Ana squad to travel south that day for a contest in the stadium.

Coach Foote said he probably would sign up if suitable financial arrangements can be made. Santa Ana was to have played Covina here October 4.

The revamped football schedule: Sept. 21—Orange at Santa Ana. Sept. 27—Muir Tech at Santa Ana. Oct. 4—Inglewood at Santa Ana. Oct. 12—Santa Ana at Herbert Hoover, San Diego.

Oct. 19—Santa Ana at Long Beach. Oct. 26—Open.

Nov. 2—Alhambra at Santa Ana. Nov. 9 or 11—Santa Ana at Fullerton.

Nov. 16—San Diego at Santa Ana. Nov. 22—Santa Ana at Pomona. Saturday Nov. 30—Out-of-State game (tentative).

Do You Always Get What You Buy?

The purchasing of lumber is no different than acquiring any other commodity. If you were purchasing a suit of clothes and asked for a size 40, and couldn't wear any other size with a degree of grace, you would not appreciate being handed a size 36 with the size tag removed.

There is nothing mystic about the grades of lumber. You get what you pay for, but be sure and get WHAT YOU BUY. There is a difference.

MILICENT MAHONEY, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her employer in his office dead. JARVIS HAPP, a stranger, comes to help her. She sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a brunette, then takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets MRS. HAPP, ROBERT CAISE, HARRY's stepson, DICK GENTRY, VERA DUCHENE, Mrs. Happe's maid.
In Happe's home Millicent sees the mysterious "woman in black ermine" whom she believes has some connection with Dringold's death. Later Happe is kidnapped.
Millicent and Norman learn the car driven by the woman in ermine belongs to PHYLIS FAULCONER. They go to her apartment. Norman enters first. When he does he returns Millicent follows. The place is in wild disorder and Norman is not in sight.
Millicent escapes. She goes to the nearby garage where DETECTIVE BUCHANAN accuses her of being Phyllis Faulconer. SERGEANT MAHONEY arrives and takes Millicent away. She tells him all what has happened. He says Norman is in great danger, asks if she will help try to save him. Millicent agrees eagerly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVII

Sergeant Mahoney stopped the car in front of the apartment house. "I have been thinking," he said, "about Gentry. You say that he tried a key to apartment 309 and it wouldn't work."
"That's right."
"Then, until he got to apartment 309 he must have thought the key was going to work."
"Yes, Why?"
"In that event," he said, "he must have used the key to get into the apartment house. In other words, he must have opened the outer door with that key."
She stared at him, her forehead showing lines of bewilderment.
"In other words," Mahoney said, "someone gave Gentry a key to apartment 309. That someone had another apartment in the house and must have given Gentry the key to that apartment instead of apartment 309. Both keys would open the door of the apartment house itself. The peculiar knocks were merely a signal so the conspirators couldn't be surprised by anyone with a pass-key."
Millicent recognized the logic of his remarks. "Good heavens, yes! And perhaps that other apartment is where..."
"Exactly," he interrupted. "Now that apartment must be on the third floor. Norman was carried from apartment 309. He would never have left it voluntarily. They would hardly have taken him up or down stairs."

Sergeant Mahoney stepped from the car, rang the bell of the apartment marked, "MANAGER." At the third ring a speaking tube whistled. A woman's voice said, "If this is a tenant who's forgotten a key, I'll open the door. If it's someone who wants an apartment, come back at a decent hour."
"It's the police," Sergeant Mahoney said. "Open the door and meet us in the corridor with a pass-key."

A moment later the door buzzed open. Sergeant Mahoney pushed his way into the apartment house. Millicent saw a big, blond woman with a white, frightened face, hugging a kimono about herself.
Sergeant Mahoney showed her his badge. "Give me a pass-key," he said.

She handed him the pass-key. Sergeant Mahoney escorted Millicent to the elevator, slid back the door of the cage, pressed the button for the third floor.

"When you get to that floor," he said, "get out and run up and down the corridor screaming. 'Norman, where are you?' After that, no matter what happens, act naturally—that is, be frightened. Don't let on that you know the police have the place surrounded. For your information, I have men placed where they can come to your rescue whenever I give the signal, but I don't want to do that until I've got some incriminating evidence."

She nodded.
"Good luck," he told her, stepped from the elevator and let the door close.

As the closing door made the electrical contact, the elevator started upward. It jolted to a stop at the third floor. Millicent saw a deserted corridor. She screamed, "Norman, Norman! Where are you?" and ran the length of the corridor.

Some man shouted through a closed door, "Pipe down. I want to sleep."

A door opened. A strange man stepped into the corridor.

"Are you looking for the man who was hurt in apartment 309?" he asked.

"Yes," Millicent said, and such was her eagerness to locate Norman that for the moment she entirely forgot she was bait for a death trap.

"I found him in the corridor," the man said. "He was unconscious, I took him in here and have been waiting for him to regain consciousness so I could find out what happened. He's not badly hurt."

Millicent ran swiftly to the door of the apartment. The man stood to one side. Looking past him, Millicent saw a couch. On the couch, covered by a blanket, lay Norman Happe. There was a splash on his forehead on which dry blood had encrusted. His eyes were closed.

"Norman!" Millicent screamed. Norman shouted, "Run, Millicent. Call the police!"

A woman's voice screamed an epithet, a gun roared.

Norman Happe had flung himself off the couch as he called his warning. Millicent saw that his hands were tied behind his back as he dove head first to the floor. A bullet ripped the davenport where his head had been. Another bullet tore through the upholstery, ripping cloth, sending up a shower of dust and exposing wire springs.

The strange man who had stood in the doorway struck at Millicent's head with a blackjack. Somehow she did not know how she avoided the blow and sped toward Norman Happe.

Through an open door which led to the kitchen she saw Dick Gentry, an automatic in his hand, his lips twisted into an evil leer, taking deliberate aim at Norman Happe's struggling figure.

Millicent screamed, lunged forward. The gun roared. She heard the impact of a bullet striking something solid as, with a savagery which surprised her, she flung herself upon Dick Gentry and realized she was holding his wrist, struggling with him for the automatic.

"You little she-devil!" he exclaimed, as she teeth sank into his hand. "Take that!"

He kicked at her. The gun roared again. Something struck her in the side with numbing force. She heard a terrific roar, felt Dick Gentry grow suddenly limp. Sergeant Mahoney's voice, sounding deadly ominous, said, "Make a move and you'll get the same dose. Stick 'em up!"

Millicent broke free as Dick Gentry collapsed to the floor. She saw Sergeant Mahoney cutting at Norman's bonds with a clasp knife, saw the strange man with his hands high above his head.

Millicent ran to Norman, screaming.

"Are you hurt?"
He grinned at her and said, "No. Why didn't you run when I warned you? Gentry was holding a gun on me. He said he'd shoot if I didn't lie perfectly still. I knew what they wanted. They wanted to get you in here. When I shouted I dove forward to dodge the bullet. A woman was with him. She ran. I couldn't see her clearly."

He straightened, rubbing his wrists. Sergeant Mahoney stepped over to Dick Gentry, slowly shook his head.

"I'm sorry, boys," he said. "I had to do it. He'd have got the girl."

Millicent looked at then and saw that grim, silent figures had filed into the room, figures who moved with swift efficiency, jerking down the hands of the man who had lured her into the apartment, snapping handcuffs around his wrists.

"What happened, Norman?" she asked.

Sergeant Mahoney sat down beside Norman Happe. "It's important," he said. "For us to get everything you know and get it fast. Give us the bare facts and give them quickly."

"I went to 309," Norman Happe said. "I knocked. No one answered. I started toward the elevator. This man, nodding his head toward the handcuffed prisoner, 'stepped into the hallway. He asked me if I was a friend of Phyllis Faulconer. He said she had instructed him to let her friend into the apartment. It was a trap. I fell for it and said, 'Yes.' He let me into the apartment, struck at me with a blackjack. I was stunned but managed to tackle him."

"Dick Gentry came in. We fought all over the apartment but they got me finally. They dragged me down to this place and have held me prisoner. I think this man is a hired thug. That's all I know."

"And, by God!" said the handcuffed man, "that's all you'll ever find out. You've killed Gentry. You've got nothing on me. I thought the man was a burglar."

Sergeant Mahoney turned to him purposefully. "You," he said, "know who Phyllis Faulconer is. You know where Jarvis Happe is. You can either talk or we'll take you to headquarters, and when we get done with you you'll be damn glad to talk."

The man snarled defiance. "Try and make me talk," he said.

"By God," Sergeant Mahoney said, grimly, "I will."

School Children To Be Guests Of Register At Fair

PARENTS, TOO, WILL SEE FAIR WITHOUT COST

Schools in Santa Ana and Orange county will have a vacation on May 31, and hundreds of parents are planning to see that their children attend the great California-Pacific International Exposition at San Diego on that day, taking advantage of the school holiday.

Hundreds of parents, too, are planning to take advantage of the Register's plan to permit the school children and adults as well, to attend the Exposition without a cent of cost.

The plan is simple, and many already have made sure that they can go to the Exposition on the Register's special train May 31. All anyone who wants to go to the Exposition free has to do is to secure four new two-month subscriptions to the Santa Ana Register without collecting a cent for the subscriptions.

For these subscriptions, you can ride with your friends on the special Register train to and from San Diego. You will be transported to and from the Exposition grounds. You will be admitted to the Exposition. You will see the entire fair and many of the outstanding concessions. You will visit the famous Zoological Gardens, where you will have your lunch served without cost. You will have an excellent dinner bought for you. And you can return home without spending a cent.

It may be that never again will such an outstanding opportunity be available. It may be that the cost of going to the Exposition has been worrying you. Now, by participating in The Register's great plan, the cost need no longer worry you. Why don't you start today, right now, spend a little time in pleasant work and go to America's 1935 Exposition without it costing you a dime?

SECOND GRADE STUDENTS HAVE FAIR EXHIBIT

Four hundred second grade school pupils of Santa Ana will have a direct interest in the San Diego Exposition opening next Wednesday, for their combined efforts are responsible for one of the important exhibits in the Palace of Education which will be inspected by all fair visitors. The exhibit occupies nearly 100 square feet of floor space, with counter and wall bracket, and includes many and varied articles of handiwork of local pupils, booklets, miniature dairy farm, photographs, etc. Material for the display was taken to San Diego this week and is being installed under the direction of Miss Hubertine Kuennen, elementary supervisor for the Santa Ana city schools.

The Santa Ana schools were requested to prepare and install the second grade exhibit in the Palace of Education by Helen Hefernan, chief of the elementary division of the State Department of Education. Exhibits of work done by other grades are being gathered from many parts of the state, and the educational displays of the Exposition are expected to be one of the big attractions of the fair.

Outstanding features of the Santa Ana display are a number of photographs, taken by Burton H. Rowley, head of the industrial Arts department of the city schools, showing many phases of the educational work of the Santa Ana schools. Among these views are scenes of school gardens and miniature postoffice, which are shown herewith.

Flower Hues Dominate Decorative Details Of Smart Tea

No entertaining of what is proving to be the pleasantest social season in several years, has boasted more lovely flowers nor a more delightful afternoon than characterized a formal tea at which Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Mrs. J. E. Gown, Mrs. S. M. Davis and Mrs. Jessie White entertained yesterday in Mrs. Harrison's home, 1406 Bush street.

The tea was planned to give close friends of Mrs. Robert E. Coulter, Mrs. A. M. Gardner and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, opportunity to take a well of these three summer travelers ere their departure upon trips "over the horizon." Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. Coulter will sail May 31 for Honolulu and Mrs. Fairbanks and her husband are departing the following day for a summer in the east. They will secure a new car in Detroit and take the remainder of their leisurely journey a-wheel.

The flowers were unusually beautiful for yesterday's hospitality, the afternoon gowns worn by guests were equally so, resulting in a scene of color and loveliness difficult to describe.

In receiving the 60 or more women calling at some time during the at home hours, the hostesses donned their prettiest afternoon frocks. Mrs. Harrison wore raspberry crepe with dusty pink in its blue lace and trimmings. Mrs. White wore sea-green chiffon.

Their three honorees were equally charmingly gowned. Mrs. Gardner in cobwebby black lace; Mrs. Fairbanks in flowered chiffon, and Mrs. Coulter in larkspur blue lace. Flowers provided by their hostesses, added a note of harmonious color. Those for Mrs. Fairbanks were in the form of a shoulder corsage, but for Mrs. Coulter and Mrs. Gardner, in the form of leis, to which they will soon be introduced by their travels.

Close friends who tendered assistance throughout the afternoon, observed the same care in dress. In the living room where they aided in introductions and other details, were Mrs. Mac O. Robbins, wearing pale blue lace; Mrs. E. B. Sprague and Mrs. J. W. McCormack, both gowned in flowered chiffon; Mrs. B. H. Sharpless in effective black and white, and Mrs. H. B. Hill wearing printed crepe in varying tones of peach.

Miss Lulu Minter as dining room hostess, wore a graceful chiffon frock with accessories in lacquer red. Assisting her were Mrs. Frank H. Patterson in crisp black and white, and Mrs. Warren Brakeman in apple green crepe. The tea table was striking with its lace and linen cloth, its bowl of Iceland poppies in soft pastel pinks and yellows, and its four ivory tapers in silver candlesticks.

Miss Terry E. Stephenson, wearing white cut velvet chiffon in regency style, presided at the silver coffee service. Opposite her sat Mrs. S. W. Stanley to serve the flower-centered ices, and Mrs. Stanley also was in white, a handsome gown of heavy silk crepe. Their assistants were effectively costumed. Miss Lida Crookshank in American beauty lace and Miss Gert. Ide Miron in black chiffon with American beauty accents.

All three of the honor guests expect to be absent a month or longer from their Santa Ana homes.

Party Game is Adapted To Presentation of Shower Gifts

Miss Virginia Garmoe, attractive young daughter of Mrs. A. F. Hibbet, Pacific avenue, Tustin, whose marriage to Austin Pierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierson of Tustin, will be an event of July 3 at 5 o'clock in Tustin Presbyterian church, was incentive for a lovely party Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. John Sauer and her daughter, Mrs. Paul Owens of Los Angeles, as co-hostesses in the Sauer's home on Yorba street. Flowers used in decorations and other details carried out a pastel color theme.

The game of hearts was played, with prizes for high and second high score going to Mrs. George Gaylord and Mrs. R. C. Korff. Mrs. Calvin A. Duncan received consolation award. Tallies were painted with pictures of brides and bridegrooms.

For the next contest of hearts, Miss Garmoe was asked to leave the room and the hostesses distributed to the guests, small card hearts bearing instructions as to where they should conceal their gifts for the bride-elect. With this quickly accomplished the honor guest was recalled and given the cards. Following their directions she found many lovely presents of a miscellaneous nature for her future home in Santa Ana.

Refreshments of sunshine and angel food cake, coffee and ice cream nut roll with heart center were served by Mrs. Sauer and Mrs. Owens at four round tables whose nut cups, candle holders and glass were carried out the pastel shades of green, pink, orchid and blue. The bride table was appointed in white. Corsages at each place contained small heart-shaped kodak pictures of Miss Garmoe and her fiancé, with the notation, "Virginia and Austin, July 3, Presbyterian church."

The honoree is a graduate of Tustin high school and has been attending a Santa Ana business college for the past year. Mr. Pierson is connected with the oil business. ## Kiwanis Members Take Izaak Walton Roles At Trout Club

That appetizing odor of crisp mountain trout, slowly browning to a delectable turn, which today arose from so many Santa Ana kitchens, was due entirely to the success of yesterday's annual fishing expedition of Kiwanis club to the Rainbow Angling club, near Azusa.

For the majority of the 150 guests enjoyed this outing, returned to Santa Ana last night, with evidence of their angling skill in the form of extra trout, speckled and shinning, all in readiness for Friday fish dinners.

It was a great expedition, according to all who took part, and Fred Newcomb Jr., social chairman, and his committee members were complimented upon the success of their plans. There were two hours or more of successful fishing before Kiwanis and Kiwanettes and their guests, sat down to a delicately browned trout and the many other appetizing features of the dinner menu. This was served in the club cabins, the largest of which accommodated some 50 diners, with others receiving parties of 20 or more.

There had been a keen interest in the contest as to who should secure the largest trout and Ben H. Baker, landing a speckled beauty more than 13 inches in length, merited the handsome rod selected by Otto Haan and his committee as appropriate reward. Mrs. Baker had much of her husband's angling skill, since she tied with Mrs. Loyal K. King, who had secured a 12-inch trout. Mrs. King was fortunate in cutting for the prize of a fine griddle especially adapted to preparing this trout she caught. Mrs. Haan and Mrs. George Dunton had assisted the prize committee in selection of the gift for "Missus Izaak Walton."

It was a typical Kiwanis party in every respect, the only dissatisfaction expressed being in regard to the failure of Mrs. Don Rice to repeat the specialty of going for an unprepared dip into the waters of the trout pool. This had been a feature of last year's outing, when Mrs. Rice rose to the occasion as enthusiastically as she rose to the surface of the pool. However, she felt that she didn't care to repeat the experience and there were no other volunteers.

There were exactly 149 club members and guests to share the merry affair, although the social chairman declared that Master Harry Westover Jr. brought the number to 149½, the tiny lad being even less than "half size."

The next social gesture on the part of the club will be the annual family party and barbecue supper to be held in Irvine park Tuesday night, June 18.

Small Maiden Is Birthday Hostess

Tiny "Pinky" Bacon, who in more formal parlance may be, but seldom is addressed as Yvonne, the demure small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bacon Jr., 112 Mountain View Drive, Tustin, had a birthday party Saturday afternoon.

And what a happy afternoon it was as the small Pinky and her friends romped on the smooth grass of the lawn, or gathered beneath a big beach umbrella which sheltered a low sand table, Mrs. Bacon, assisted by Miss June Blazer, directed their play and aided Pinky in opening the many gifts which were so exciting.

Again the bright umbrella with its pendant balloons in vivid colors, was sought at the refreshment hour when the two birthday cakes were cut and served with other dainties. One cake held two small candles in bird holders, and the other had a procession of animal crackers standing in the icing.

Pleasant Observance Given Natal Date

A birthday anniversary which is being celebrated far longer than the single day usually accorded such observance, is that of Miss Mary Lockhart, 618 West Second street. For daily there is a shower of letters and greetings cards from old friends and Daughters of the American Revolution in Miss Lockhart's former home, Lexington, Mo., many of whom she has not seen since leaving there 15 years ago.

On the natal anniversary itself, was a picnic dinner in Anaheim park, engineered by Miss Lockhart's sister and niece, Mrs. B. B. Steele and Mrs. James H. Russell of Los Angeles, and by Mrs. W. C. Jacob of this city.

The party also complimented James H. Russell, who shares the same birthday date. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Russell and their son, James Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob and little son Royce, Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer of Los Angeles, and Miss Lockhart.

Through a coincidence, Miss Lockhart had additional reason to celebrate the anniversary, for on that same date she was granted the home loan that will insure saving her home on West Second street, and the little "I-Save-U" grocery which is her home business.

SERVICE CLUB
TOLD HISTORY OF L.A. HARBOR

ORANGE, May 23.—Tales of the days when freight coming by sea and landed at what is now Los Angeles harbor, was carried on the backs of camels to Salt Lake City, were related yesterday by J. Reed Giddings of the Los Angeles Harbor department of the city of Los Angeles at a meeting of the Lions club.

The program was presented as a part of the observance of Foreign Trade week, the Foreign Trade club of Los Angeles, having originated the observance of this week since years ago, the speaker explained. Today, he stated, the week is being nationally observed in 200 cities of the United States. H. E. Chambers was program chairman.

Many persons, said Giddings, do not realize that Los Angeles harbor holds second place in the shipment of cotton, Houston, Texas, holding first. The long fiber cotton from the Imperial valley and from Bakersfield and Arizona is greatly in demand in the Orient where about half of the shipment goes to Japan.

Canned fish also is an important export, it was said. Several reels of pictures of the harbor were shown.

Gives Play
This Evening

ORANGE, May 23.—Franklin Nickay and his troop of Boy Scouts of the Santa Ana Rotary club, will present a short drama at the meeting of the West Orange P-T-A. to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the school. The name of the play is "I Want to Be a Scout."

Rhone was initiated as a member. Alvin Drumm gave a report of the county council meeting at Laguna Beach and announced the coming meeting which is to be held in Orange June 3. Nominations for officers were closed.

J. E. Donegan gave a report of the work done by a committee which included himself, Dr. J. E. Riley and C. W. Coffey, in supplying magazines to those in the tubercular ward in the county hospital. He also exhibited a number of attractive baskets made by the patients from old playing cards.

It was announced that Drumm will represent the club at the International convention in Mexico City. Richmond stated that he had learned that the trip to Mexico City may be made by motor, contrary to general reports, and that but one difficult stretch of road is encountered.

THE TINYMIES

As Scouty said he'd save the day by heading off the runaway, he jumped out of the wagon, much to everyone's surprise.

"Hey, look at him," cried Duney. "He is just as scared as he can be. Our real brave pal's been sent out before our very eyes."

Then Scouty landed on the ground and answered, as he turned around, "Just give me time. I'll stop that horse, and give you all a thrill."

"At running, he is right in trim, but just watch me keep up with him. Don't anybody else jump or you all may take a spill."

"Gee! What is Scouty up to, now?" said Goldy. "I just can't see how he ever expects to rescue us through racing by our side."

"Perhaps he's going to grab our bag. I hope not, though. The horse might drag the lad around and hurt him." "Let us go," another cried.

Wee Scouty kept up with the race, and then a smile spread on his face. "I have a lasso round my belt. I'm going to use it, now."

"I'll make the bag stop very quick. You'll see that I am pretty slick. I've seen it done in circuses. Just watch! I'll show you how."

The next thing that the Tiniens knew, out through the air the lasso flew. "Oh, dear, he missed his aim," cried Copy. "We're still in a fix."

"I hope he tries the stunt once more, and then much better luck's in store. It's really strange to see poor Scouty miss one of his tricks."

The next time the brave lad

Stories in STAMPS

WOMAN AMBASSADOR OF GOODWILL

SO overjoyed was Mexico when Amelia Earhart Putnam, world's most famous woman aviator, made a nonstop flight of 1700 miles from Los Angeles almost to Mexico City, recently, that the government issued a special stamp in her honor. She had to land 60 miles from her goal when her radio and compass went dead and a bug flew in her eye.

The Earhart stamp of Mexico is that country's last airmail issue surcharged in black with the name of Amelia Earhart and the words in Mexican, "Good Will Flight, Mexico, 1935." Very few were printed. Some were distributed by lot among some 1600 philatelists and government officials, and the rest went by lot to those of the public who applied for them. A rarity already!

PIONEER JEWELER CALLED BY DEATH

FULLERTON, May 23.—John L. Marshall, pioneer jeweler of Orange county, died yesterday at the Fullerton General hospital after a very brief illness. He resided at 223 East Wilshire.

He came to Fullerton more than 40 years ago and started the first jewelry business in Fullerton. He has been operating an orange ranch for some time.

During his long life in Fullerton he was active in all civic improvements, and was a member of Fullerton Masonic orders and of the First Methodist church.

Survivors are his two sons, Dr. John Marshall, of Adrian, Mich., and Julian Marshall, of New York City. The latter son arrived in Fullerton Tuesday following an airplane trip across the continent, and Mrs. John Marshall arrived at the bedside of the father Wednesday morning, also coming by airplane.

The funeral arrangements are awaiting definite word from Dr. Marshall. The body is at McAlamy and Suters Funeral home.

Firemen Prevent Spread Of Fire Set By Child, 4

MIDWAY CITY, May 23.—A small boy and matches formed a combination which about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon threatened to cause a widespread fire on Adams street, which the quick work of the Midway City Volunteer Fire department averted.

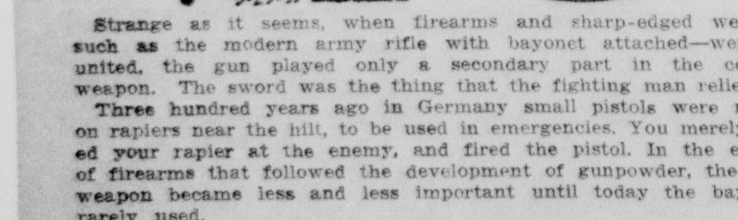

The lad, four years old, secured matches from a neighbor boy and with these set fire to grass on the back of the lot. The grass being very dry the fire spread rapidly, burning rabbit hutches, which fortunately had no rabbits in them, then went into the Taylor lot adjoining where other hutches, chicken coops and the garage were all endangered.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

For further proof address the author, enclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Strange as it seems, when firearms and sharp-edged weapons—such as the modern army rifle with bayonet attached—were first united, the gun played only a secondary part in the combined weapon. The sword was the thing that the fighting man relied upon.

Three hundred years ago in Germany small pistols were mounted on rapiers near the hilt, to be used in emergencies. You merely pointed your rapier at the enemy, and fired the pistol. In the evolution of firearms that followed the development of gunpowder, the cutting weapon became less and less important until today the bayonet is rarely used.

Originally the rifle bayonets were simply daggers stuck in the muzzles of the guns, rendering the guns useless as firearms as long as the bayonets were fixed. In 1690, more than half a century after the rapier-pistol shown above was developed, General Mackay introduced the use of the ring bayonet which did not obstruct the rifle barrel.

Mute evidence, in the form of the bones of thousands of rabbits on Lisiansky Island in the Hawaiian group, tells the fate of rabbits which ate themselves out of house and home, changing a tropical paradise into a barren island. The island was once the home of countless birds, it was covered with rich vegetation, and visited regularly by man gathering guano. One party put a few pairs of rabbits on the island. The rabbits did the rest. They multiplied so fast and ate so much vegetation that eventually they had stripped the island of greens. They died of starvation, and not one survived. ## CATO'S KILLERS

The gold courtesy cards with which Chief E. Raymond Cato, of the California Highway Patrol, exempts his favored friends from enforcement of traffic laws, as brought to light here yesterday by Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, serve at least one worthy purpose.

They afford the people of California a clear insight to the possibilities of the proposed state police system. They are, literally, a shining example of centralized government, beyond reach of local opinion.

There can be no possible denial that, in issuing these gold-plated killers whom Chief Cato has turned loose on the highways with his blessing, for, as another local judge once aptly remarked, irresponsible operation of an automobile is a menace comparable to shooting a cannon down a crowded street.

What is one to think, in the light of these "gold-plated privileges," of the campaign conducted at state expense, with the "Singing Cop" and the highway patrolmen, to impress the "rabble" with the importance of observing speed limitations?

We have a picture of a man driving along the highway conforming to the eloquent talk he heard the day before, keeping within the law, and a man darts out from the line and drives his car swiftly by him at 60 miles per hour.

This law-observer does not know that the man who did this had a "gold-plated privilege" in the form of a "courtesy card" and he dumbly says: "If he can do it, why not I?" Injury and death may have resulted in just such circumstances a score of times.

The Rotary club patriotically takes up the campaign for law observance and quotes Chief Cato on the values of obeying the law. Then they learn that the "Chief" of the whole enforcement agency is issuing to 60-mile per hour drivers "courtesy cards," made of gold and costing, so rumor says, $11.00 apiece.

What influence will Chief Cato have with the knowledge by the people that there is gross discrimination; that there is arrest and fine for the run-of-the-mine variety and gold courtesy cards for the privileged few?

There is the point to be made that Cato's tactics are a mockery of the safety campaign his department has lately stressed.

There is the point that public integrity has been insulted and scandalized by a spectacle of special privilege and brazen disregard of duty in a high place.

But above and beyond these are the implications of expanding danger to life and property by the expanding of a state police system. Expanding the present state traffic police system to take over the enforcement of all laws, and to cut all strings of local control, would necessarily enlarge the opportunities of the Catos to license crime.

Would it be less appropriate for a safe-cracker or a thug to carry a gold courtesy card? They are less dangerous to life than the gold-card motorist.

Would it, in fact, be entirely unreasonable to provide professional killers with gold courtesy cards, to be flashed upon any interfering officer? Is the professional killer any worse than the amateur? Is high-toned killing by Cato's friends any easier on the victim than the low-brow kind?

The public might as well realize that the farther government gets away from the people, the more gold-card government there will be.

The California Highway Patrol, on the one side, and its chief, on the other, provide an object lesson of this truth. The rank and file of the highway patrol is, in the main, a highly efficient body of officers, conscientiously attempting to give competent and impartial enforcement of traffic laws to the full extent its leadership will permit.

Orange county is justly proud of its patrolmen. They have made this the safest county in the state.

But it can be pointed out that there is an element of local control in the present system. They are picked men. They were picked for merit and their high type of character. They were not picked to "wink at" crime.

That is because they were picked by conscientious LOCAL officials, directly answerable to local opinion, not by a gold-card executive in a distant capital.

The gold card is, indeed, symbolical when associated with a state police system. It has the shape and color of a gold brick.

RESPOND WITH A SMILE AND A COIN!

Saturday is "Poppy day."

It is almost unnecessary to commend this fine enterprise to the citizens of Orange county.

It is certainly like "carrying coals to Newcastle."

There may be an honest difference about many political, social and economical questions, but there can be no difference of opinion in regard to the support of every kind which can be given to the disabled veterans and their families.

It is a fine way in which to make the contribution which we believe comes almost universally from the innermost heart of the giver.

We are a great, powerful, wealthy nation. We have, on the whole, a wonderfully patriotic people.

The prompt response of our youth to the nation's call has always been an evidence of that devotion which is a part of our nation's heritage.

When those who respond are so injured, in any manner in the line of duty, that they individually are weakened to further carry on in life's contest with the rugged and the strong, we are glad to do our part. And the poppy, associated with Flanders' fields, made more famous by Robert Service's inspired poem, is a beautiful emblem to wear, indicative that one's memory and sympathy are still fresh.

So greet the poppy vendor with a smile and a coin! And wear the emblem proudly and reverentially and spend some moments of that busy day in reflecting upon its meaning!

GOVERNOR MERRIAM AND THE DOG-RACE GAMBLING BILL

Sometime ago, a measure was introduced in the assembly, which would permit the gambling privileges under the pari-mutuel plan to be applied to dog racing.

The members of the legislature, anxious to do what the gamblers desired, and wishing to appear pious, or at least democratic, in the minds of their constituents, put in a provision that it could be operated only in those counties, where, by vote of the people, it was permitted.

But the dog-racing gamblers didn't like that. They said: "Change it around! Let us in and put it up to the people by a vote to get us out!"

And lo! and behold, it was done. The bill permitting this additional gambling, placing the burden upon the people to protect themselves from its onus, is passed on to the governor.

Will the governor sign it? Kind reader, we do not know. In fact, we haven't the faintest idea.

The campaign on which he was elected, and in which he was heralded as a strong church and religious man, and that his opponent was a "Godless infidel," is not proof positive that he will sign it.

We do not know just exactly how he will act on this measure, but we have serious doubt if anyone believes that the alleged "atheist" Sinclair would have signed such a measure if he had been governor.

We cannot help at least expressing the hope that the governor will protect the state from the ills of such legislation. We are going to keep in a frame of mind where, although we cannot say we honestly expect him to veto it, we will at least not be greatly surprised if he does.

A GOOD PLACE TO GO

The Bowers Memorial museum and the current art display quartered there provide an inviting combination.

The museum itself is a beautiful place, set in an attractively landscaped site, with its sweeping arcades and its lofty-ceilinged and attractively decorated display halls. It provides a fine setting for the pictures by the brush of D. N. Dietrickson, well-known artist, who is there in person to greet those who may wish to spend a little time enjoying the beauties of the building and his creations.

In one room will be found some portraits and landscapes that have much appeal. In another are a group of his marine scenes, which have caused him to be ranked by Arthur Millier as one of the four outstanding marine painters of the Pacific coast.

In the assembly room on the second floor are many studies and portraits of interest by three of his students, Norton and Jerome Gaston and Cliff Tisdale. The brothers are Santa Anans, employees of a local theater.

The exhibit in its fine setting at the museum makes a pleasant place to spend a little time enjoying beauty.

MAYBE IT WAS HER MOVE

A few weeks ago a fine refined and elderly lady stopped the Register because she said she didn't like something or other.

Yesterday the carrier boy went back to her and asked her if she wanted to start the paper again.

Here is her answer: "Yes—I've been waiting for you to call on me;" and then as an after-thought, oh, so human, but very sweet, she said: "but I never would have called up and told you so."

Although at that, she may have been very near doing so, as others are each day.

Money Running Short for War-Mad Nations

San Bernardino Sun

A recent cablegram from Paris contains this eloquent sentence: "Confronted with the dilemma of devaluing the franc or ceasing to arm, the French government today sought desperately some way out." In fact the French premiere and finance minister had a long conference in an effort to handle a deficit that threatens government bankruptcy.

Such is the situation in the capital of the most thrifty land in the world. What is it in others? We know this much. The governments of practically all the large nations, except Great Britain, see the job of making ends meet as a problem rather than as an achievement, and are facing the financial future more or less in a spirit of apprehension.

Throughout the Old World the money troubles of the governments are much aggravated, too, because those in key positions seem bent upon making poor debtors of themselves in order to get into a position to exterminate one another with fire, sword and gas.

But how long could a major conflict started under such conditions continue? Money still remains the sinews of war.

SEA HORSES

On learning the sad news that their numbers are diminishing.

The little sea horses,
The shining sea horses,
They dart to and fro
Through the wind-driven spray;
The tiniest billows
They use for their pillows
When the red sunbeams glow
At the close of the day.

When rough is the weather
They huddle together,
Let the great combers roar
And toss as they will;
Let screaming seas rumble,
Let wild breakers tumble
Along the wide shore,
They never are still.

Upright in the ocean
They brave the commotion
Of swift sweeping tides
That thunder and foam,
But when they grow weary
They're not quite so cheery,
But safely abide
In their deep-hidden home.

Many fishes are savage;
The shark loves to ravage,
If you meet with a whale
You had better look out.
But the sea horses wander
Here there and out yonder;
Of their kindness and charm
There cannot be a doubt.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE HUMAN SIDE OF RECOVERY

For more than five years now we have been waging, with varying degrees of intensity, a campaign for national recovery.

Such a campaign, as I pointed out at the very outset of the depression, must be waged on two fronts—the economic and the social, the material and the human.

On the economic battle-front we have been fighting to bring the flow of business enterprise back to normal.

On the social battle-front we must fight to restore and to revitalize those human values and human vitalities without which the utmost prosperity is a barren achievement.

The breakdown we suffered in 1929 was more than an economic breakdown. It was a breakdown of men more than a breakdown of system.

It was not the American tradition of private enterprise and political liberty that failed. That tradition, duly modernized on the basis of simple justice and sound economics, when the tumult and shouting of these difficult days have died, will still be standing as a pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night in the midst of the inevitable failure of the Fascism and Communism which have seduced the minds of so many weary and disillusioned millions.

We must rectify it, but there is no need to replace this tradition. It is, I repeat, a breakdown of men far more than a breakdown of system from which we have suffered.

Too many Americans have failed to learn that neither a self-centered life nor a self-centered enterprise can long endure.

Too many Americans have failed to realize that every right implies a duty.

Too many Americans have failed to display a living sense of social responsibility.

Too many Americans have failed to realize that self-disciplined living and self-disciplined action are even more necessary in a time of prosperity than in a time of poverty.

The authentic recovery of American life and enterprise will not be complete until something akin to a religious awakening arises in us, as a people, a realization that these basic human problems of character and attitude are quite as vital to the national future as trade agreements, tariffs, labor regulations and all the rest.

If we can create on this continent a socially responsible and sternly self-disciplined people we need not worry about the national future.

SOME DON'TS

All good rules can, and ought to be, broken occasionally. I am going to break the one that says Do not say Don't Say do. I believe that we can use a sharp word to good advantage at times so here are a few that may be useful to us who deal with children, big and little.

Don't slap children. It irritates them and increases the difficulty you are trying to correct. A slap is reserved for emergencies and these are in their nature, rare.

Don't discuss children's failings with others. Keep your child's secret as you would want yours kept. A child loses faith in the one who talks about him behind his back, gossip about him, or complains about him to people who really do not care.

Don't blow hot and cold. Keep still until you have a definite opinion and then express it once for all. What is right today ought to be right tomorrow, or the reverse. Only on rare occasions, the exceptions that are always present in any of life's activities, is there justification for a change of standards.

Don't exaggerate the importance of children's actions, one way or another. They are never as good as you think, never as bad. They are growing, and consequently changing, personalities. If all their manifestations are given first importance there can be no standards set in their minds as to what is important and what is not. On that little point hinges a great part of character growth.

Don't frighten children. Fear never strengthened a human soul yet. Fear never corrected an error. Fear is a poison that paralyzes the body and the mind and checks growth. Education and training should be directed toward encouraging boldness, initiative, experiment. The brave heart wins.

Don't give children credit for emotions, desires, tastes, ambitions, that are your own, and of which they are usually ignorant.

A child is not a miniature man or woman, but a child and has a child's nature. It is a mistake to try to give materials that are yours, a life that is yours. He can be happy only in his child way and when you impose yourself upon him.

upon him in any way you lessen to a degree proportionate, his chances of happiness and success. Let him enjoy his childhood. He will become a stronger adult if you allow it to him.

Don't tell a child to be noble and be ignoble yourself for what you are he will most certainly be and you have no chance to hide your true self from him. He knows what you think, he knows what you believe, he knows what you read, what you eat and drink and wear. He knows you as you do not know yourself. Life fashions itself on your pattern and if you are truly concerned about his character you pay careful heed to your own.

This is a counsel of perfection and nobody can reach it. We can reach toward it, however, and the children will reach in sympathy with us. Don't disappoint them. They depend on us.
